THE GRAND JURY require on the part of the CONSERVATOR, that he shall be vigilantly attentive in viewing the several Roads, Streets, &c. &c. for the repairs of which the within Presentments have been granted, as it will be expected from him, on oath, faithfully to report to the ensuing Grand Jury at next Affizes, whether such Presentments as shall then be accounted for by the respective Overseers are well done. It is also further observed, that it will be a great encouragement to Grand Juries to grant Presentments to any gentleman who applied at this Affizes, or who may in future apply, who shall execute the work as soon after their being granted as the weather may permit, as it is too generally the case that the work is left undone by the Overseers until towards the approach of the Affizes, and consequently then executed in such a hurry, as very soon again to require repair at the public expence.

N.B.—A representation, made by any respectable Citizen, of the neglect of any Overseer or Overseers, and of course the Presentment committed to his or their charge being imperfectly finished, will (on such complaint being fully substantiated) be particularly attended to by future Grand Juries, and payment stopped till properly accounted for.

THE GRAND JURY require on the part of the CONSERVATOR, that he shall be vigilantly attentive in viewing the several Roads, Streets, &c. &c. for the repairs of which the within Presentments have been granted, as it will be expected from him, on oath, faithfully to report to the ensuing Grand Jury at next Assizes, whether such Presentments as shall then be accounted for by the respective Overseers are well done. It is also further observed, that it will be a great encouragement to Grand Juries to grant Presentments to any gentleman who applied at this Assizes, or who may in future apply, who shall execute the work as soon after their being granted as the weather may permit, as it is too generally the case that the work is left undone by the Overseers until towards the approach of the Assizes, and consequently then executed in such a hurry, as very soon again to require repair at the public expence.

N.B.—A representation, made by any respectable Citizen, of the neglect of any Overseer or Overseers, and of course the Presentment committed to his or their charge being imperfectly finished, will (on such complaint being fully substantiated) be particularly attended to by future Grand Juries, and payment stopped till properly accounted for.

THE Secretary to the Grand Jury is directed to inform all such persons as have heretofore obtained Presentments for repairing roads, or for making new ones, and have not proceeded to execute the same, that unless such works are forthwith proceeded upon, application will be made to the Court of King's Bench, to fine the Overseers for neglect: and it is expected that whenever a presentment for money shall hereafter be obtained, the persons obtaining the same shall immediately proceed to carry the work into execution, for which such presentments shall have been obtained. And that in future the accounting affidavit of the viewing Overseers, as well as of the acting Overseer, shall be sworn before the same shall be listed by the Secretary, otherwise the quere will not be discharged.

The Grand Jury deem it necessary to apprise every person who intends to apply for a presentment to build any bridge, wall, gullet, pipe or sewer, that in the estimate required to be annexed to the affidavit, it is requisite that they state the exact dimensions of the several walls to be built, by inserting the length, the thickness and the height, and if the walls are to batter, the thickness at the base and at the top.

The Sub-Constables of each barony are hereby informed, that the Grand Jury require them to put in force so far of the Acts of Parliament as relate to their duty, on pain of dismissal and withholding their salary.

The several Collectors are hereby directed to take notice, that the Grand Jury require them, on receipt of their warrants, forthwith to proceed on their collections, and that no Collector will be continued that shall not make good his collection within the time prescribed by law.

The Grand Jury think it necessary to observe that in their opinion the money laid out by annual Overseers is in many instances considerably misapplied; particularly from its being in general all laid out in the course of a few days, and generally within a short time previous to the term, almost the entire expended in gravel, and very little in picking and levelling the road. They recommend it to future Grand Juries to pay particular attention to the accounting affidavits of annual Overseers, and to the times and mode of expenditure.

Signed by Order,

Charles Wisdom, Secretary.

THE Secretary to the Grand Jury is directed to inform all such persons as have heretofore obtained presentments for repairing roads, or for making new ones, and have not proceeded to execute the same, that unless such works are FORTHWITH proceeded upon, application will be made to the Court of King's Bench, to fine the Overseers for neglect: And it is expected that whenever a presentment for money shall hereafter be obtained, the persons obtaining the same shall IMMEDIATELY proceed to carry the work into execution for which such presentments shall have been obtained. And that in future the accounting affidavit of the viewing Overseers, as well as of the acting Overseer, shall be sworn before the same shall be lifted by the Secretary, otherwise the Quere will not be discharged.

The Grand Jury deem it necessary to apprise every person who intends to apply for a presentment to build any bridge, wall, gullet, pipe or sewer, that in the estimate required to be annexed to the affidavit, it is requisite that they state the exact dimensions of the several walls to be built, by inserting the length, the thickness and the height: and if the walls are to batter, the thickness at the base and at the top.

The sub-constables of each barony are hereby informed, that the Grand Jury require them to put in force so far of the Acts of Parliament as relate to their duty, on pain of dismissal and withholding their salary.

The several collectors are hereby directed to take notice, that the Grand Jury require them, on receipt of their warrants, forthwith to proceed on their collections, and that no collector will be continued that shall not make good his collection within the time prescribed by law.

The Grand Jury think it necessary to observe, that in their opinion, the money laid out by annual Overseers is in many instances considerably misapplied; particularly from its being in general all laid out in the course of a few days, and generally within a short time previous to the term alioit the entire expended in gravel, and very little in picking and levelling the road. They recommend it to future Grand Juries to pay particular attention to the accounting affidavits of annual Overseers, and to the times and mode of expenditure.

Signed by Order,

Charles Wydam, Secretary.

To the GRAND JURY assembled at LENT ASSIZES 1807:

The REPORT of the Committee appointed for the purpose of inspecting and auditing the Treasurer's Accounts.

Gentlemen,

IN executing the duty which was committed to us by the late Grand Jury, and in which the public money of this County is so materially and deeply concerned, we thought it indispensably necessary to call to our assistance the aid of Mr. Rikey, the Deputy Clerk of the Crown, and of Mr. Chambers the Solicitor to the Grand Jury, to whose labour, perseverance, and ability we feel ourselves greatly indebted for the clear and perspicuous arrangement which they enabled us to adopt, not only in examining into the accuracy of the Treasurer's accounts, but into the whole detail of checks that the law intended to have established, in order to prevent the possibility of the public money being misapplied, either intentionally or from neglect.

In order that our investigation should be as useful to the public as our endeavours could make it, we commenced our examination of the Treasurer's accounts from the time of his appointment to that office, and continued it until the present time: and before we lay before you the result of our enquiry, we think it right in the first place most earnestly to impress on your minds the defects that have arisen in the system of keeping the accounts of this County by a departure from the regulations, and indeed, from the positive directions of the law respecting them; because we feel perfect confidence, that by restoring to the County the wise regulations of the law, not only the checks upon the receipt and payment of the public money will be rendered fully effectual, but no possibility can arise of any money being levied off the County, that has not been duly and legally presented to be raised.

It is proper, however, to anticipate, that in the departure that we have discovered from the regulations of the law, and which we shall presently state to you, no blame is imputable to the present Treasurer, or the other public Officers of the County.—The system we allude to was established in this County for many years before any of them came into office, but which ought, we think, to be instantly corrected.

The system we object to is confounding the duties of Clerk of the Crown, Treasurer, and Secretary to the Grand Jury, each of which the law intended should be a check upon the other:—in order,

First, To secure the County that the true amount of the money actually presented, and no more, should be levied.

Secondly, That due credits should be given to the Public for money raised, and (not being expended upon the intended work) afterwards re-presented to the credit of the Public.

And thirdly, That the several warrants issued by the Treasurer for the levy of public money, as well upon the County at large, as upon the several Baronies, should be duly and regularly returned to the Grand Jury at each Assizes; which, if enforced, would almost of themselves constitute an effectual check upon any Treasurer, or person acting under him, who should attempt to raise more money under colour of his warrants than the Grand Jury had previously ascertained and directed to be raised.

By the usage of this County, however, it has been the practice for the Secretary to the Grand Jury,

First, To take all the Presentments from the Clerk of the Crown when granted by the Court, and to issue them to the Treasurer, in order that he should levy the amount.

By this usage you will observe the Secretary to the Grand Jury not only became the keeper of the Records of the County, so far as related to the public money, but the responsible Officer, the Clerk of the Crown, by whom alone the law directed those Records to be kept, became wholly irresponsible; and it has also been the custom to present to the Secretary of the Grand Jury the rent of an office for the purpose of keeping those Records, instead of presenting it to the Clerk of the Crown, who is the proper Officer.

We

We are fully aware that the late Grand Jury have dismissed the late Secretary, and that the Presentments are now in possession of the Clerk of the Crown; but we think it proper to state the facts as heretofore existing, in order as well to prevent any relapse in future into the former system, as to account for the irregularities in the Treasurer's accounts, which we shall have occasion presently to lay before you.

The next irregularity that we think necessary to state to you, is the mode heretofore adopted by the Treasurer in issuing his warrants to the Collectors to raise the public money.

Those warrants necessarily ought to state the sum presented upon each Barony, for example, and the proportion of the aggregate sum presented upon the County that is chargeable upon each Barony, and the rateable proportion of the whole acreable charge upon the Barony.

In these respects, most of the warrants that we have been able to discover are wholly imperfect and defective.—But it is further necessary to direct your attention to what appeared to us to be a matter of the utmost consequence: namely, that the warrants issued by the Treasurer, and under which the public money has been raised (defective even as they have been in point of form), have never been returned to, or laid before the Grand Jury. And this omission has been attended also by acts in themselves so highly culpable, that nothing but the usage that has prevailed in this County could rescue the Treasurer from the most severe censure. For, by not producing to the Grand Jury the warrants when the amount thereof has been levied, the Grand Jury have been not only prevented from seeing that the sum levied was the same in amount as the sum presented; but the Treasurer, upon issuing each warrant, assumed upon himself a power of adding to each warrant a distinct Presentment, and putting into levy the amount of the Collector's fees, although such fees were never presented to be raised by the Grand Jury. By this mode, therefore, in so much as the amount of the Collector's fees extended—in so much, a levy of money has been raised without the authority of law. But we must again repeat, that this practice is not imputable to the present Treasurer. It was the mode and system of executing the office long before and at the time of his appointment. We submit however to you, that it ought to be instantly corrected; and that hereafter no money shall be raised as fees for Collectors, till the warrants under which the same has been levied, together with the Treasurer's receipts for the amount thereof, shall be first laid before the Grand Jury, as the ground or foundation whereon they can only be enabled to present the fees allowed by law to the Collectors: and afterwards, that such warrants should remain in the custody of the Clerk of the Crown, along with the other records of the County.

In regard to the Treasurer's accounts; We feel ourselves bound specifically to state, that he has in every instance, and with every readiness and dispatch, afforded to us every information that the system heretofore observed upon enabled him to give us. But we lament that that system wholly deprived us of the means of examining and comparing his accounts with the warrants issued by him from time to time to the Collectors. For, as we have before observed, those warrants were never returned to the Grand Jury, or to the Clerk of the Crown, but remained with the Collectors themselves. But, in order to get these warrants, we endeavoured, by individual applications to the Collectors, to be furnished therewith; and are sorry to be obliged to state, that we have only been able to obtain them in a very few instances indeed.

We think it our duty, however, to repeat, that Mr. Coddington, by the ready production of his private books and accounts, most considerably assisted us in discovering many errors in his accounts, and many sums that were omitted to be credited for to the County.

By this investigation and the examination of the several quere books from 1797, when the Treasurer was appointed, we find there were queries not regularly brought forward to the credit of the County, amounting to the sum of £.70. 12s. 3d. which queries nevertheless appear to us to have been subsequently brought forward and duly discharged: so that, in this respect, the public have suffered no material pecuniary loss.

We find, however, balances of queries omitted altogether to be brought forward, amounting to the sum of £.26. 0s. 4d. the particulars whereof, distinguishing the amount and date of each, we have stated in the Schedule herewith laid before you, marked No. 1.

Under the head of money raised and afterwards re-presented by the Grand Jury to the credit of the Public, we find there are errors in the Treasurer's accounts against the Public, to the amount of £.559. 13s. 1d. the particulars and dates whereof we have stated in the Schedule, No. 2, herewith laid before you.

We feel ourselves bound, in justice to the Treasurer, distinctly and specifically to state, that in ascertaining the amount of the money so re-presented by the Grand Jury, and not brought forward to the credit of the Public, we were most essentially assisted by the Treasurer himself, who laid all his private accounts and papers before us, and who on the amount being ascertained most readily debited himself therewith; thereby enabling your Committee in some degree to apply a remedy to the evil resulting from the negligence of his clerk, whom it appears the Treasurer in a great measure was induced to employ from the confidence reposed in him by former Grand Juries.

We beg leave here to suggest, that, in printing the Presentments, the Treasurer should be directed to give credit at each Assizes upon the printed Abstracts to the respective Baronies for all re-presented sums, distinguishing each sum separately; and then the money to be really collected would be apparent upon the face of such Abstracts.

Upon the whole, we are of opinion, that, by correcting the errors we have before alluded to, namely:

First, In future, by ordering all Presentments into the custody of the Clerk of the Crown;

Secondly, By presenting the fees upon the warrants of the Collectors, and filing such warrants with the Clerk of the Crown.

Thirdly, By having the sums re-presented at each Assizes distinctly specified in the printed Abstracts; and,

Fourthly, By subjoining to the printed Abstracts of the Presentments upon the County at large and the several Baronies, a table, specifying the acreable assessment to which the County and Baronies shall be respectively liable;—an effectual mode of checking the Treasurer's accounts will be established, and the security of the public money will be as well protected, as the nature of the office can permit.

After having thus detailed our investigation, and submitted the foregoing observations to you, we beg leave to state our entire conviction of the strict integrity of the Treasurer, and to repeat our thorough belief that the errors that have appeared to us in his accounts have arisen, partly from a bad system system that was long established in this County before he was appointed to his office of Treasurer, and partly from the misconduct of a clerk, not of his own selection, but a man who was almost transferred to him by the County along with his office.

And we also add our perfect belief, that, in consequence of the present investigation, and of the proper arrangement of the public offices of the County, in regard to the public money thereof;—uniform accuracy and attention will hereafter be preserved.

Adopted.—Ordered to be printed, and the regulations recommended carried into effect.

MARCUS SOMERVILLE, and Fellows.

The Grand Jury of the County of Meath, fully convinced of the benefit likely to result to the County from any observance of the following rules, (wherever circumstances may permit,) do earnestly recommend them to the attention and observation of the landholders thereof.

Ordered,

That all affidavits, as well for presenting as accounting, be, so far as they can be procured, printed.

That to each presenting affidavit be annexed a certificate, signed by the Conservator or principal Overseer, stating that the work is necessary; and also a certificate signed by the acting Overseer, stating the rates of wages at which he has made his estimate. That each car shall draw at least six hundred weight of gravel, and also that he has estimated the damages likely to be occasioned by taking gravel, and the distance at which it is situated from the centre of the perches to be repaired.

That on all roads to be repaired, the stones be broken small before the gravel is laid on; and that to each accounting affidavit be annexed a certificate, signed by the Conservator or principal Overseer, stating that the work is well executed.

That it is advisable to postpone, until the map of the County now executing by Mr. Wm. Larkin be completed, the opening of any new line of road in this County, except in continuation of any road already in part opened in this or any adjoining County, or where circumstances of the clearest public utility shall appear to render a speedier formation of any such road manifestly desirable.

That Edward E. Chambers be directed to attend as our Solicitor, on behalf of the County, upon the trial of all traverses for damages; that he shall employ Counsel in such cases, when he shall think the assistance of Counsel necessary, and use every professional exertion to prevent excessive damages from being found and charged on this County, and to apprise the Grand Jury of each of such cases.

That in all Baronies where Conservators have been appointed, a month's notice previous to each Assizes shall be given to said Conservators, by all persons applying for Presentments to repair roads, of the exact points between which the intended repairs are stated to be wanting, to give sufficient time for said Conservators to examine and measure the same, so as to enable them to give useful information to the Grand Jury.

That John Gerrard, esq. and James Reilly, be added to the Overseers of Fianstown bridge, granted at Summer Assizes 1806, and that the bridge shall be 32 feet wide, in place of 22, for the sum granted, amount £. 255. 5s.

Resolved—That in future all galleys and single arches shall be carried entirely across the road into the adjoining fields, so that the banks of the ditches may be continued.

THE Grand Jury of the County of Meath, fully convinced of the benefit likely to result to the county from an observance of the following rules and notices, (when circumstances may permit) do earnestly recommend them to the attention and observation of the Landholders thereof:

That all Affidavits, as well for presenting as accounting, be, so far as they can be procured, printed.

That to each Presenting Affidavit be annexed a Certificate, signed by the Conservator or principal Overseer, stating that the work is necessary; and also a Certificate signed by the acting Overseer, stating the rate of wages at which he has made his estimate.—That each Car shall draw (at least) six hundred weight of gravel; and also that he has estimated the damages likely to be occasioned by taking gravel, and the distance at which it is situated from the centre of the perches to be repaired.

That on all roads to be repaired, the stones to be broken small before the gravel is laid on; and that to each Accounting Affidavit be annexed a Certificate, signed by the Conservator or principal Overseer, stating that the work is well executed.

That it is advisable to postpone, until the Map of the County now executing by Mr. William Larkin be completed, the opening of any new line of road in this County, except in continuation of any road already in part opened in this or any adjoining County, or where circumstances of the clearest public utility shall appear to render a speedier formation of any such road manifestly desirable.

S U M M E R A S S I Z E S, 1806.

Ordered,

That Edward E. Chambers be directed, &c. as in former Book.

That in all Baronies where Conservators have been appointed, a month's notice, previous to each Assizes shall be given to said Conservators by all persons applying for Presentments to repair roads, of the exact points between which the intended repairs are stated to be wanting, to give sufficient time for said Conservators to examine and measure the same, so as to enable them to give useful information to the Grand Jury.

That in future all Gulleys and single Arches shall be carried entirely across the road into the adjoining field, so that the banks of the ditches may be continued over them, and that the battlements of bridges and other walls, where necessary, be finished with chisel-edged coping.

That cars employed in the repair of roads, in order that they may contain six hundred weight of gravel, should be of the following dimensions:

	Feet.	Inches.
The front board	3	6
The back board	4	0
Breadth of the boards	0	8
Distance between front and back boards	2	0

That the Conservators of roads shou'd send in their Reports, at each Assizes, to the Grand Jury, immediately on their proceeding to business; and that it would be desirable that all persons having any complaint to make or information to give, respecting any public work, communicate such to the Grand Jury at as early a period of the Assizes as possible, in order that due examination may be made previous to passing the accounts.

SUMMER ASSIZES, 1807.

Ordered,

That the following be printed as a testimony due to the merits of a respectable public officer.

At a Meeting of the Gentlemen and Landholders of the Upper Barony of Kells, previous to these Assizes, it was Resolved,

Ordered, That all Presentments which have been granted two years previous to last assizes, and work not doing, an account thereof shall be laid before the Court, and application made to strike the same out of the Quare Book; and the money in the Treasurer's hands, for payment thereof, will be presented for other purposes in the respective Baronies and Half Baronies, and County at large.

The Treasurer requests that Gentlemen who are Collectors of the Grand Jury Cefs will give directions to their Deputies to proceed on their duty forthwith, as there is reason to think the Summer Assizes will be an early one, and by doing which, they will have time to convert a great portion of the silver and other payments made to them into such Bank paper as will be pleasing to all persons entitled to receive for Presentments.—The Treasurer will attend at his office ten days before the assizes, to receive the Public Money by degrees; and it is hoped the Gentlemen Collectors will assist the Treasurer's disposition to dispatch the Overseers out of town, by paying him large portions of the Public Money before the assizes.

The County will have credit in next Assizes' Levy for the Balance, if any, of fines and forfeited recognizances, after Presentments are made to the late Collectors for lodging the bodies of several debtors in gaol pursuant to Act of Parliament.
