ADDRESS OF THE
HOUSE OF COMMONS
TO HIS MAJESTY.

EXTRACTED FROM THE VOTES,
Veneris 25^o die Maij, Anno 50^o GEORGH IIIⁱⁱⁱ Regis, 1810.

MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled, having taken into our consideration the state of the Public Records of Ireland, and the necessity of providing for the better arrangement, preservation, and more convenient use of the same, humbly beg leave to lay before Your Majesty the Report and Observations on the Public Records of Ireland, made to Your Majesty's Commissioners on the Public Records in the year 1806; and to represent to Your Majesty, that, in some of the Repositories of that part of the United Kingdom, the Public Records are preserved with order and regularity; but that, in others, they are wholly unarranged, undescribed, and unascertained; that some of them are exposed to erasure, alteration, and embezzlement, and others are lodged in places where they are suffering from damp, or incurring a continual risk of destruction by fire.

It appears that some of the Buildings allotted to these uses, particularly the house in which the Records of the late Parliament of Ireland are deposited, are in a state so incommodious and insecure, as to require immediate attention.

Your faithful Commons do, therefore, most humbly beseech Your Majesty, that You will be graciously pleased to give such directions, as Your Majesty in Your wisdom shall think fit, for the better preservation, arrangement, and more convenient use of the Public Records of Ireland.

And we beg leave further to assure Your Majesty, that, whatever extraordinary expenses may be incurred by the directions, which Your Majesty, in Your wisdom, shall think fit to give on this occasion, shall be cheerfully provided for, and made good by Your faithful Commons.

Jovis, 7^o die Junij.

Anno 50^o GEORGH IIIⁱⁱⁱ Regis, 1810.

Lord George Thynne reported to the House, That their Address of the 25th day of May last (that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to give such directions, as His Majesty in His wisdom shall think proper, for the better arrangement, preservation, and more convenient use of the Public Records of Ireland; and to assure His Majesty, that, whatever extraordinary expense shall be incurred for these purposes, this House will make good the same) had been presented to His Majesty; and that His Majesty had commanded Him to acquaint this House, that He will give directions, as desired by the said Address.

COMMISSION

For executing the Measures, recommended by the House of Commons, respecting the Public Records of Ireland.

GEORGE R.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and so forth;

TO Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Thomas Manners Baron Manners, Our Chancellor of that part of Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland called Ireland; the most Reverend Father in God, Our right trusty and right entirely beloved Councillor Euseby, Archbishop of Dublin; and Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillors, John Foster, Chancellor of our Exchequer; William Downes, Chief Justice of Our Court of King's Bench; John Philpot Curran, Master of the Rolls; John Baron Norbury, Chief Justice of Our Court of Common Pleas; Standish O'Grady, Chief Baron of Our Court of Exchequer; and William Wellesley Pole, Chief Secretary to our Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland; and the Persons severally holding the said Offices for the time being; Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin, John Chambre Earl of Meath; Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin, Francis William Earl of Charlemont; Our right trusty and right well-beloved Cousin and Councillor, Lawrence Earl of Rosse; the Right Reverend Father in God, Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Charles Bishop of Kildare; Our right trusty and well-beloved Councillor, Patrick Duigenan, Doctor of Laws; and Our trusty and well-beloved George Hall, Doctor in Divinity, Provost of Trinity College, Dublin.

WHEREAS Our most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in Parliament assembled, having taken into Their consideration the state of the Public Records of Ireland, and the necessity of providing for the better Arrangement, Preservation, and more convenient Use of the same, have humbly laid before Us the Report and Observations on the Public Records in the year one thousand eight hundred and six; and also humbly represented unto Us, that, in some of the Repositories in that part of the United Kingdom the Public Records are preserved with order and regularity; but that in others they are wholly unarranged, undescribed, and unascertained; that some of them are exposed to erasure, alteration, and embezzlement; and that others are lodged in places where they are suffering from damp, or incurring a continued risk of destruction by fire; that some of the Buildings allotted to these uses, particularly the House in which the Records of the late Parliament of Ireland are deposited, are in a state so incommodious and insecure, as to require immediate attention; and humbly besought Us, that We would be graciously pleased to give such directions as We, in Our Wisdom, should think fit, for the better Preservation, Arrangement, or more convenient Use of the Public Records in Ireland; and that whatever extraordinary expenses may be incurred by the directions, which We in our Wisdom shall think fit to give on this occasion shall be cheerfully provided for, and made good by Our faithful Commons:

WE, considering the premises, and earnestly desiring to provide for the better Preservation, Arrangement, and more convenient Use of the said Records, are graciously pleased to condescend to the request of Our faithful Commons.

Know ye, therefore, That WE, of Our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, by and with the advice and consent of Our right trusty and right entirely beloved Cousin and Councillor, Charles Duke of Richmond, Our Lieutenant General and General Governor of that part of Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland called Ireland, and according to the tenor and effect of Our Letter, under Our Privy Signet and Royal Sign Manual, bearing date at Our Court at Saint James's, the eighteenth day of July One thousand eight hundred and ten, in the Fiftieth year of Our Reign, and now enrolled in the Rolls of Our High Court of Chancery of Ireland;—

O R D E R S.

AT a Board of the Commissioners appointed by His Majesty for carrying into Execution the Measures recommended by the House of Commons, respecting the Public Records of Ireland;

Holden at the House of the Right Honorable the Lord High Chancellor of Ireland, on the 23d day of March, 1813,

PRESENT,

The Right Honorable THOMAS LORD MANNERS, Lord High Chancellor of Ireland,
The Right Honorable JOHN CHAMBRE, Earl of Meath,
The Right Honorable WILLIAM DOWNES, Chief Justice of the King's Bench,
The Right Honorable JOHN PHILPOT CURRAN, Master of the Rolls,

ORDERED, That Mr. HARDIMAN, Sub-Commissioner on the Rolls, should proceed, with the aid of Mr. TIBEAUDO as his Assistant Sub-Commissioner, to complete the Repertory to the INQUISITIONES POST MORTEM, for the Press.

And at a Board of the said Commissioners, holden at the Council Chamber, Dublin Castle, on the 25th day of March, 1828,

PRESENT,

The Right Honorable Sir ANTHONY HART, Lord High Chancellor of Ireland,
The Most Reverend WILLIAM, Lord Archbishop of Dublin,
The Honorable and Right Reverend CHARLES, Lord Bishop of Kildare,
The Right Honorable Sir Wm. Mc. MAHON, Bart. Master of the Rolls, ORDERED, That as soon as the Indexes of Persons and Places to the Second Volume, containing the printed Repertory of the Inquisitions in the Province of ULSTER, in the Roll's Office, shall have been arranged and printed, that the same be forthwith published.

W. Shaw Mason, Secretary.

INQUISITIONS.

THE INQUISITIONS preserved in the Rolls Office of the Court of Chancery of Ireland are Records of the highest Authority and Value. They may be classed under two distinct Heads, viz. :—INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM, which are the most numerous, and INQUISITIONS ON ATTAINDER. They are divided, according to the four Provinces and the several Counties of Ireland, into Reigns, and generally commence in the time of Queen Elizabeth, few being prior to that period. The former Class ceases soon after the Restoration of Charles II. when the feudal Tenures were abolished by Act of Parliament. The latter extends to the Reign of William III.

The INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM were taken under Commissions directed to the Eschaetors of each Province, and others joined with them; and find, by the Oath of a Jury, what Lands any Person died seized of, by what Rents and Services they were held, and who was the next Heir and his Age, by which the Right of the Crown to Escheat or Wardship was ascertained. On them were founded all grants of Wardships of Body and Marriage—Liveries of Lands—Pardons of Intrusion—Pardons and Licences of Alienation, &c. in virtue of the Tenures in Capite. They are the best Evidences of the Descent of Families, and of the Transfer and Possession of Property during the period they embrace. Numerous family Settlements, Deeds, Wills, Leases, and other Instruments relating to Property in Ireland, are set out at full, or copiously recited; and of the greater number of these there are, at present, no other Traces to be found.

The INQUISITIONS ON ATTAINDER were generally taken under Commissions directed to Commissioners in the several Counties, and shew whether any Person was attainted, in which case his Lands and other Property, which were also found, were seized into the King's hands.

These important Documents have suffered much injury from Time and Neglect, but have been carefully arranged, cleansed, and placed in Port-Folios, by Order of His Majesty's Commissioners on the Public Records, a process which will tend to secure their future preservation.

Under the same Authority a REPERTORY of their Contents has been formed. That of the Province of LEINSTER has been published. The present Volume comprises ULSTER, and the REPERTORY of the Provinces of MUNSTER and CONNAUGHT will follow. It will be found, in general, to contain—

The DATE of each Inquisition, and the PLACE where taken.

The NAME or Names of the Person or Persons to whom it relates.

The LANDS of which he or they was or were seized, their acreable or other Contents, and real or nominal Value.

The TIME of his or their Death.

The HEIR or Heirs, and his or their Age or Ages, and Marriage.

The TENURE by which the Lands were held under the Crown, or its Tenant in Capite, or by Knight's Service, &c. &c.

The Repertory of each County is preceded by a CATALOGUE of its Inquisitions, and followed by copious INDEXES of PERSONS and PLACES, in which the references are made to the Number of each Inquisition, placed according to Chronological arrangement, in each Reign. Whenever it may be necessary to recur to the Records themselves, they can be referred to in their Port-Folios with every facility, by means of these Numbers, which are conspicuously marked on them. It is to be observed, that where Blanks occur in the Print, the original Documents are decayed or illegible.

The first Volume of Reports of His Majesty's Commissioners, pp. 81—2, contains Specimens of both the Classes of Inquisitions already described; from which their usual Import and technical Form may be ascertained. It will likewise appear that all the essential Parts of the Records are preserved in the Repertory. In accordance with the text, Abbreviations have been necessarily used; but the general Uniformity adhered to, will be found, in a great degree, to remove any Obscurity which might arise from their Introduction. In the Names of the Counties, and other minor Particulars, Perspicuity has been chiefly consulted. The entire has undergone close Examination with the Originals, and the most minute Variations of Orthography, particularly in the names of Persons and Places, have been carefully observed.

A few Inquisitions appear inrolled on the Patent Rolls of Chancery; but they are not comprised in the Repertory, as the Originals are not now remaining with the others in the Rolls Office. Some of them, however, of a special and important nature, relating to the Ecclesiastical and other Escheated Lands in Ulster, will be found in an Appendix to this Volume. The Commissions for dividing the Province into Shire-ground in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth, with such of the Returns made on that occasion as now remain in the class of Miscellaneous Records in this Department, and minute Surveys of two of the newly formed Shires, Monaghan and Fermanagh, and of the Territory of Iveagh in the County of Down, discovered among those Records, are here subjoined.

THE countie of Fermannagh, contayninge in length 28 miles, and in breadth 8 miles, is thus generally meared and bounded, viz: to the EASTE, yt mareth upon the countie of Tyrone, and joyneth with the same in one parte, at a bridge on the river of Doovin, called Maddendondoovin; in another parte, at a little mount called Lysh-Rathherickee; and yt mareth upon Iriell in the countie of Monaghan, at the paace of Bealaghkilleaghha; and upon the Dartry, at a little mount called Lysshnadoorque.

SOUTHE, yt it mareth upon Magawran's countrey, in the Breyney, one way at the foord of Balaghalaghta Ihir, in one parte, and in another at a bogge called Grallaghe-coondoovie; and yt meareth upon O'Reilie's countrey in the Breyney afforesaide, another way, at a weare called Carraleannagh, on one parte, and in another parte at the hill of Druimbuffonagh.

WESTE, yt meareth upon O'Rourke's countrey, and joyneth with the same, at the foord of Bealaghanemierlagh, and with Sleught Donogh O'Rourke in the same countrey, at the field of Cloyaghawla.

NORTHE, it meareth upon Maglannaghe's countrey one way, and joyneth with the same at the foord of Bealaghfeine, and in another parte at the plaine of Ragheine; and yt meareth upon Tyrconnell another way, joyninge with the same in one parte, at the hill of Skeaghanfregha, in another parte at the foord of Ebborroegh Tarmonmagrath, in another parte at the river of Carrabandergue, and in another parte at the wood of Barraghdalmoine, towards Sleught-art in Tyrone.

THIS foresaide countie is divided into seaven equall baronies, viz:—

KNOCKENYNY.

LURGUE.

CLINAWLEY.

MAGHERY STEFFANAGH.

MAGHERY-BOYE.

CLAN CALLAGH.

COOILL, a half-barony.

TIRE CANNADA, a half-barony.

Mears and bounds, viz.: by

NORTHE, yt extendeth to the river Ortine, runinge between this barony and Maghery-Steffana.

SOUTHE, yt extendeth to Lissnedurgue in the same barony, boundinge upon Iriell, in the countie of Monaghan.

WESTE, yt extendeth to Loghanm^cmartin, lyinge between this barony and Magawran's contrey.

EASTE, yt extendeth to the Curan, lyinge between Clancallagh and Coill.

TEMPORALL lande within this barony, is all equally devided into seaven ballybetaghes and a half, each of these ballybetages contayninge 4 quarters each, those quarters contayninge 4 tathes, and each of those tathes aforesaid to be 30 acres contrey measure; all which is chardgable lande, [] this barony;—besides

Barony of Knocknyny,
contayninge the 2
contreys of Knocknyny and Coilleneerer, hath

Spirituall landes.

The pish church of Golcone hath 4 quarters of land; it is possessed by Mc. Donoghon, Clan I'Molhoile and Muntery Carbry, of inheritance, as corbes.

The pish church of Droomellie hath one quarter of land belonging to yt; it is possessed by Muntergowan as corbes— All theis landes are small measure, 2 tathes thereof making but one proportionable to those tempall landes of the barony.

We find these said lands belonging to theis churches, both spirituall or termon landes, and that the kinge's majesty is thereunto justly intituled by act of pliament, enacted within this realme in the 28th yere of king Henry eight, of famous memory, that the same are now actually and really in his majestie's rightful possession.

THERE are also in this barony, besides theis landes tempall and spual, other small freedomes contayninge small pcells of land, some belonging to the spirituale, and others beinge pte of the mensall landes allotted to Magwire, which have never bin chardged with the barony, and therefore here are not named.

Cheef freeholders, viz.

- Slought Gilpatrick Magwire.
- Slought Mc. Art Magwire.
- Clangorry in Knocknyny.
- Slought Edmond Magwire.
- Slought Shane Magwire.
- Slought Doon Magwire.
- Clandonnell O'Comenshee upon the Coill, by east Logherne.

The pticular porçons of theis gent. is unknowne to the jury.

THE jury cannot find, neither can wee understand of any attained or surrendered landes in all this barony, neither what is the yerely value of any of the spual possessions.

Barony of Clynowley, contayninge the con-
treys of Clynowley, half Lague, Mun-terflodoghan, Maghvayere, Clonconhidi, Clonaghawla, and Crewagh, hath

Meares and boundes,
viz.: to the

NORTHE, yt extendeth as farr as Leargan Dorogh in the same barony, skirtinge upon Maghery-boy.

SOUTHE, yt extendeth to the river of Dowanyin, roninge betweene this barony and Knocknyny.

EASTE, yt extendeth to the river called the Harnaghe, at his entrance into Lough-Erne, lying next to Knocknyny.

WESTE, yt extendeth to Bealaghanannerlagh, bordering on O'Rourke's contry.

TEMPORALL lande in this barony is likewaies all devided equally into seven ballybetoghes and a half, chardgable land, that is 80 quarters or 120 tathes;—besides

The monastery or abbay of channons at Lisgoole, whereunto belongeth in the same barony 20 tathes of land, and certaine medders of barley with the appurtenances of butter, arisinge as a chiefrent out of Ballym^csagart. This is intirely possessed by Shane Mc. an abbott for 10 yeres past, as prior from the pope.

The abbay of S^t Fraunces in Lyssgoole, whereunto belongeth no landes or lyving, save onely the gardens and croftes about yt. It is possessed by the said Shane, notwithstandinge wee find the king's ma^{tie} to be iustlye intituled to all the landes and possessions of theis 2 abbayes, by act of pliam^t, enacted within this realme, in the 33^d yere of king Henry ye eight of famous memory, and so actually possessed thereof.

The pish church of Keannallee hath 6
tathes of land; possessed by Munter Droma, as corbes.

The pish church of Lassassaire hath one tath of land; it is possessed by Munter-vlaryk, as corbes.

The pish church of the Mill hath one tath of land; it is possessed by Clanmagaraghan, as corbes.

The pish church of Templeoall hath one tathe of land; it is possessed by []

The pish church of Cloaninis hath 5 quarters of land; it is possessed by Sleight-Laughlin Magwire, as corbes.

The chappell of temple Anaaffrin hath 2 tathes of land; it is possessed by Clangillilaisir, as corbes—all these lands are lykewise small measure.

Wee find theis said landes belonginge to theis churches to be hospittall or termon land, and that the king's ma^{tie} is iustlye intituled thereunto by act of pliam^t within this realme, in the 33^d yere of king Henry the eighth of famous memory; and that the same are now actually and really in his ma^{ties} rightfull possession.

Spirituall landes, viz.

THERE are lykewaies in this baronie, besides the landes above menconed, other small pcells of free land, pte of Magwire's mensall land, not chardgable with the barony, therefore here not named.

Cheif freeholders, viz.

- Sleight Tirleogh Magwire.
- Sept of Senawley.
- Montery Doelan.
- Clanleanan in Munterflodoghan.
- Sleight Donell ballagh Magwire.

Their pticuler porcons of land the jury know not.

THE jury cannot find any attainted or surrendered land within this barony, neither can they estimate the yerely value of the spirituall possessions.

Mears and boundes,
viz.: to the

NORTHE, yt extendeth to Bealaghafaine or Mourneanrahine, in the barony of Magherye-boy.

SOUTHE, yt extendeth unto the field of Cloyaghaawla in the barony of Clynawley.

WESTE, yt extendeth to Bealaghagerroigie in the same barony.

EASTE, yt extendeth to Druimgarragh, lying upon the termon of Devenish, towards the barony of Lurgue.

TEMPORALL land within this barony is lykewaies all devided into seaven ballybetoghes and a half, chardgable land, that is 30 quarters and 120 tathes;—besides

Barony of Magherye-boy, contayninge the three contrees of Magherye-boy, Tuogh-Raha, and Sleught-Redmond Maguire, hath Spirituall landes, viz.

The monastery or abbaye of channons in Devenishe, whereunto belongeth in the same barony 8 tathes of land; and the tithes of these 8 tathes, and the tithes of Ballyosey, and the tithes of 3 half tathes of land belonginge to the chappell of Collydea: the prior of Flanagan possesseth this intirely by authoritie from Roome, and hath held yt theis 3 yeres, notwithstanding the kinge's ma^{tie} is lykewaies justly intituled to all the landes, possessions, &c. of this abbay, and so actually possessed thereof by act of pliam^t before mençoned.

The pish church of Devenish, whereunto belongeth two quarters of land; it is possessed by Hugh Mc. Hugh Magwire, as corbes.

The pish church of Boha, whereunto belongeth 4 quarters of land; it is possessed by Munter Dylan and Clan Magarraghan, as corbes.

The pish church of Inismoysoaw hath 2 quarters of land, and Ballyosey, contayninge 4 quarters and a half; it is possessed by Patrick O'Flanagan, as corbes.

The chappell of Collydea hath 3 tathes of land; it is possessed by Rory ballogh O'Corcon, as corbe.

The chappell of Maghenyan hath 2 tathes of land; it is possessed by Clan Mc. Sagart, as corbes—this lands are lykewaies small measure.

Wee find theis landes lykewaies to be hospitall or termon landes, and therein the kinge's ma^{tie} iustly intituled, and possessed by act of pliam^t before mençoned.

THERE are lykewaies in this barony, beside the lands above-mençoned, other small pcells of free land, not chardgable within the barony, and therefore here not named.

Cheif freeholders, viz.

Sleught Brian Magwire.
Sleught Redmond Magwire.
O'Flanagan's sept.

Theis pticular porçons of land unknowne to the jury.

THE jury cannot find any attainted or surrendered land within this barony, neither can they estimate the yerely value of the spirituall possessions.

Meares and boundes,
viz.: to the

NORTH, yt extendeth to Ballynetullagh in the barony of Lurgue, lying upon the Coigory or bond of Collomkernon.

SOUTH, yt extendeth to Ballybriskelan in the half barony of Tirecanada, lying next to Termon Deremollen in the same barony.

EASTE, yt extendeth to Maddendoovoin, in the borders of Tyrone.

WESTE, yt extendeth to Carraghleshgoole, in the barony of Clynawley.

TEMPORALL landes in this barony are lykewaies all devided into three ballybetoghes, and 3 quarters chardgable land, that is 15 quarters or 60 tathes;—besides

Half barony of Cooil,
contayninge the 2
contryes of Cooil
and Ferneraght, hath,

Spirituall landes, viz.

The pish church of Iniskeane hath 5 quarters of land; it is possessed by Munterdoogan, as corbes.

The chappell of Popull als Collidea hath 2 tathes of land; it is possessed by Gillette O'Huine, as corbes.

EDGEWORTH.

RETURN OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

PLEASETH YT YO LOP.

ACCORDING to the tenor of his majestie's comission, out of his high court of chancery, wee or any three or more of us, directed to inquirye, pambulate, meare, bound and distinctly to sett out the utter boundes of the countrey or territory of Eveagh, in the county of Down, and to sett forth and distinguysh the true lymittes, meares and bounds of all and every towne landes, halfe towne landes, sessiaghes, and other proportions of lands distinctly and severally the one from the other, lyinge and being within the said countrey or territory of Eveagh, as are in controversie and difference betweene any parson or parsons, and to heare, order and determyne the same difference and controversie according to the best wisdome and discerninge of us or any three or more of us: and of or doynge therein to certifie with convenient speed.—In performance and execution whereof, we have yssued out our precept to the high sheriff of the county of Down, to gyve sumons of our proceedings, to begin at Magheragh in the said countrie or territory, the second daie of june, 1618, which beyng unto us then and there returned, and the whole cuntrey convented; we have entered into the due execucon thereof, and have taken view of a certen difference then in question betwene sir Arthur Magneis, knight, of the one part, and sir Edward Trevor, knight, and John Laghan, gent, of the other part, (all parties being present,) betweene the towne lands of Dromey belonging to the said sir Arthur Magneis; and the towne lands of Corocke and Carne Cawell belonging to the said sir Edward Trevor and John Laghan: the meetes of both parties beyng trodden and sett forth, and dyvers witnesses on both sydes beyng duly deposed and examined.—

We fynde the meeres trodden and sett forth by Dermot O'Miskeyne, begynnyng at the ryver leading westward to Cloghonbride, and so through the wooddes to Bryan Mc. Hughe's landes to be the true meere and bounde betwixt the said lands, which we by virtue of our said comission do declare, sett forth and establish to be the right meere betweene them, and so to remayne.—And the same day and tyme, we have lykewyse taken view of a difference betwixt the said towne landes of Dromey belonging to the said sir Arthur Magneis, and the towne lande called Garvagh belonging to the said John Laghan set forth and trodden, (both parties being then present); and after dyvers wytnesses on both sydes being duly examined and deposed, we fynde the parcell of land named Fewgood to be parcell of Dromey; and the ryver runyng by the long steeple at Magheragh to be the true meere and bound of the said lands, which meere we order and determyne to be the right meere and bounde that shall remayne.

And on the third day of the same moneth, we have by vertue of our said comission repayred to the towne land of Iland Moyle within the said territory, and then and there taken view of a certen difference betwixt the towne lands of Iland Moyle and Carbragh belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and the towne of Ballyunshonagh and Lysneusque belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, set forth and trodden, both parties then present; we fynde the meere trodden by Donnogh O'Doran, begynnyng at the bogge, and through the same to the bottome of a hill called Cloghoge to a stone leading to the ryver Moddock, which ryver and meere we order and determyne to be true meere and bounde betwixt the said land, and shall so remayne and be.

And on the fowerth daie of the same moneth, we have, by vertue of our said comission, repayred to the lands of Ballyndryn belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and Monybane belonging to Patrick Mc. Willm grome O'Rony, in the said territory; and then and there tooke view of a certen difference of the meeres betwixt the said two townes; and do fynde in the presence of both parties, by examinacon of dyvers credible wytnesses, that the streame runnyng downe from the mountayne of the Connyea, westward betwixt the place called Towreardnegenny, and a place called Backahullyn, and is neare an old forte of stones called Cashellnaculum upon the north syde of the said streame, and so directly to the great ryver in the bottome that runnes to Irhulkroe, which streame and ryver we order and determyne to be the mere and bound that shall remayne betweene the said townes; also we fynde, order and determyne, that the ryver betweene Monybane and Crugar to be and remayne the true mere betweene them; that platt of grounde or meadowe meered to Monybane by Shane Mc. Patrick glas O'Rony, lyeng in the lower ende of both the ryvers, only excepted.

On the fyveth daie of the said moneth we repayred likewise, by vertue of our said comission, to the towne lande of the Drange belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and the towne lande of the Fynnias belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, lyeing within the said territory; and then and there likewise tooke view of the difference of the meeres betwixt the said two townes, and do fynde in presence of both parties, as well by examinacon of wytnesses as by any auntient dede, that the ryver of the Drange is the meere betweene the Drange and Fynnias, which ryver we therefore determyne to be the meere and bounde that shall remayne betweene them for the lower part only where the fort standeth, and to goe no further up then to the brooke called Altedulonagh.

Wee likewise repayred the same daye to the towne land of Dromagh-Donelyn belonging to Hugh Rony, lyeing within the same territory, and then and there also tooke view of a difference about a hill called Tulloghymroesaa, lyeing betweene the said towne of Dromaghdonelyn, and the towne land of Croskelt belonging to sir Edward Trevor; and do fynde by examinacon of wytnesses, in presence of both parties, that the said hill doeth belonge unto and is parcell of the towne lands of Dromaghdonelyn; and that the middle of the bogge betweene Tulloghymroesaa and Croskelt is the right meere betweene the said two townes; which meere we therefore order and determyne to be the meere betweene them, and so to remayne.

We likewise, the same day, tooke view of a certen small parcell of lande conteynyng fower acres of arrable and meadowe, whereupon standeth a greate Irish howse, and lyeth in the said territory betweene the lands of Reconyglan of the one syde, Lysmaght-knock on an other syde, and Bally Mc. Gilbrick belonging to sir Arthur Magneis; and do fynde by examinacon of witnesses, in presence of both parties, that the same doeth belonge unto, and is parcell of Bally Mc. Gilbrick; and therefore we do so order and determyne to be part thereof, and so to remayne.

We likewise, the same daye, tooke view of a certen small parcell of lande lyeing betweene the towne lande of Monyslane, within the same territorye, belonging to Cormuck Mc. Warde, and the towne of Croskelt; and do fynde by examinacon of wytnesses, in presence of both parties, that the same parcell of lande doeth belonge unto, and is parcell of the said towne lande of Monyslane; and that the meere betweene Monyslane and Croskelt begynneth at Mc. Awarde's land, and so alonge by the brooke ruinyng from the bogge out of the north-east syde; which meere we order and determyne to be the right meere betweene the said two townes, and so to remayne.

Likewyse, on the eight daye of the same moneth, we have, by vertue of our said comission, repayred to the landes of the Grange, Ballylisnekeagh, and the Carnew lyeng within the said territorye, and there tooke view of the differences about the meeres of them; and do fynde by good prooffe and wytnesses, (nothinge beyng produced to the contrary,) that the long ditch trodden by William grome O'Rony, begynnyng at the bogge called Lisnehartanagh, and so up to the topp of the hill called Lisne Edron is the right meere betweene the Grange belonging to sir Edward Trevor and Ballylisnekeagh; and also that another ditch descending downe from Lisne Edron to a brooke is the true meere betweene the said towne lande of the Grange and the Carnew; both which meeres we do therefore order and determyne to be the right meeres betweene the said two towne lands, and so to remayne.

We likewise, the same daye, tooke view of a parcell of lande called Aughdavanny, lyeing within the same territorye, and in controversie betweene sir Edward Trevor and sir George Sexton, knights; and do fynde by good wytnesses, in presence of both parties, that the same parcell of lande doeth belonge to Beleeve apperteyning to the said sir Edward Trevor; and that the right meere betweene the said towne of Beleeve and of Lisnerewe belonging to the said sir George Sexton, to which he claymed the said parcell of lande, begynneth at the ryver of the Bando, leavyng Aughnadavanny belonging to Beleeve, and so up to some shrubbes besidas Limelauno, till both the said townes meete at Ballendowne, as the same was meered, trodden and sett forth to us in the presence of both parties by Owen Mc. Connell, according as yt had, by consent of both parties, bene formerly meered, trodden and sett out by very auntient men; which meere we do therefore confirme, order and determyne to be the right meere betweene the said townes, and so to remayne.

And upon the nyth daye of the same moneth, we repayred to the landes of Dromsallagh, within the said territory, and viewed certain differences betwixt the said Dromsallagh and Lysnegeade belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and Ballymeagh belonging to sir George Sexton, both parties being present at setting forth the meeres, and sondry wytnesses sworne and examyned on both sydes, we fynde the meere and boundes trodden by Neale O'Hyer, begynning at a bottom where a little brooke called Dromsallagh brooke goeth alonge a ditch called Lemneneigh, in English the Horse Leap, up the hill called Lenneneigh, and thence to the hill called Derilonan, and alonge the said ditche to a forte in the wooddes called Lisonan, leaving the same forte within Dromsallagh, and thence alonge the like olde ditche to a foarde called Agh Fowke, in English the Dyvell's Foarde, and thence crossing over a bogge to the lower ende of a ditche in the middle of a playne neare Lisneknow, leaving the said lisse in the Meagh, and alonge the said ditche wyndinge eastwardes toward the bogge, and alonge the bogge a little distance, and then through a playne northwarde, by a stone and an old stampe of an oke to certen bushes northward where the meere hath bene plowed, beyng the meere betwene Lisnegeade and the Meagh, and thence by a hedge in a lowe bottom through wooddes called the Glack to the Dingle under the forte of Lisnegeade, leaving the hill Edendaron in the Meagh, and the hill called Dromenyskye within Lysnegeade; which meere so trodden and sett forth as aforesaid is the true meere betwixt the landes of Dromsallagh and Lysnegeade belonging to the said sir Edward Trevor, and the landes of the Meagh belonging to the said sir George Sexton, and so we do order and determyne the same to remayne.

We did likewise, the same daie, viewe the difference betwixt the said lands of Dromsallagh, and the landes of the Mynnye and Bally Mc. Enratty, within the said territory, belonging to Glasney roe Magneis, and that the meere trodden and sett forth by Neale O'Hyer, begynning at the brooke called the Sorynelaghneagan, thence by Carrick Brack, so to Donynyer, thence through the bogge to Colrush by a ditch, and so through a wood directly leading to Drammolisonuskye, and so directly through the wood from thence leading by a platt of playne grownde called Tawnagh Capple Cleigh, thence to Taughboye, and so by Tawnagh Brallaghan through Broagh Cloaghan to the ryver, is the true and certen meere betwixt the said towne, and therefore we do order and determyne the same so to contynue and remayne.

We did likewise, upon the same daie, viewe the difference betwixt the towne lande of the Meagh belonging to sir George Sexton, and the towne and lands called Clonknaverlye belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and both meeres beyng trodden and sett forth, and wytnesses examined on both sides, we fynde the meere trodden and sett forth by Manus Mc. Pheleny O'Hanlon, following an olde ditch to a bottom, and then alonge the saide bottom, upon both which there is a hedge sett to be the true meere, which we likewise order and determyne to be and remayne the true and right meere and boundes betwixt the said landes.

We also fynde that there was a difference betwixt the said towne of Dromsallagh belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and Balleagoan, a towne lande belonging to sir Arthur Magneis within the said territory; which difference hath bene by both their consentes putt to order of freindes, who ordered that a streame of water having some small uilders growing about yt, runyng betwixt the hill of Ballygoan and the Mollasharvocke, should be the true meere, which meere by Art oge Mc. Bryan oge, and Shane Mc. Bryn, the said orderers so sett downe, we order likewise and determyne to be and remayne the true meere and boundes betwene the said landes.

We did likewise then fynde the meere of Castle Elly als Moyrather, within the said territory, belonging to sir Edward Trevor, trodd and sett forth by Art farnagh O'Honow, begynnyng at a stone called Slackneskestie by a little olde ditch, leading to an olde high waye called a batter to the side of a hill called Slatgillecolme, leaving the said hill within Castle Elly, and thence along the said batter untill it turneth to a lytle oulde grove, and so directly westward to a bottom, then turnyng northwarde alonge the said bottom by a little brooke to a foard called Bealle-da-van, and thence upwarde the said brooke to a bogge, leaving the hill called Knockenemersin within the said Castle Elly, following the bottom of the bogge north-east to the side of a wood, which meared alonge the said bottom untill yt came to a playne in the said bottom called Tavenagh Tober, and so by a ditche leavinge the saide Tavenagh Tober without the meere, up through the wood to the hill by an olde stony meere, untill a playne where the meere hath bene plowed by Rory O'Kelly,; and that Bryan Mc. vickar O'Fegan did breake the plough then for plowyng the same, and so following alonge the said stony meere to the side of a hill called Legikistie adjoyning to the hill of Garvagh, and alonge the said stony ditche crossing a highe waye southwardes to a meere lyeng betwene Ballyfodoney and Castle Elly, untill yt come to the bottom betwene Shanrade and Castle Elly, then alonge that bottom to Loughantowe, and thence alonge a bottom betwixt Castle Elly and the O'Sheale's lands to Lisnekistie first mencioned, to be the true meere and boundes of the said Castle Elly, yt beyng so meered, bounded and sett out in the presence of many, and not gaynsayde by any; and therefore we do order and determyne the same to be and remayne the true and right meere of the same.

And upon the tenth daie of the same moneth we repayed, by vertue of our said comission, to the landes of Rose Trevor, belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and to the landes of Drumseske, Ballenymony, the half towne of Ballytobber, belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, and the half towne of the glebe-lande belonging to the churche of Kilbrony called Governestrade, lyeng within the said territory, and tooke viewe of the meeres betwene them, and do fynde by good prooffe, that the right meeres thereof, begynne at the brooke called Srowan ne hawide, and so from thence to a bogge called Fooleferly, and then meeringe to the ditche betwene Knockan Cleye, and Tully Dalgyn, and by the same meere up to Loghan Muscoode, and then by the same meere to the ryver of Ballynemony, and so over the ryver, up the hill of Aughdrom, by a stony ditch to Knockaneawell, leaving Knockaneawell to Rose Trevor, and so following the same stony ditch to Daughleide, and so contynuyng the same stony ditch to Knockenure, leaving Knockenure to the landes of Rose Trevor, and so keeping by the same stony ditche to Carrick Tanvrede, leaving Carrick Tanvrede to Monytobber, then followinge the same stony dytche to Knockelawer, neare the churche, leaving Knockelawer to the glebe-lande, and by the same stony meere to Clonagillin, leaving the same to Rose Trevor, from thence to Mony Ribbogath, then keeping still the stony ditche goyng alonge betwene Lackanbegge and Knockreagh, then followinge certen stony meeres to a piece of a dytch, nigh to the bottom of Slewfrighe, and from thence by other greate stones which serve for a meere to the dytche that goeth to the foarde of Cross owne, which is a ryver beyng a meere that cometh from Shankesh, then from Shankesh to the height of the mountaine of Croslewe to the heape of stones called Slatyedee, and from thence directly downe to the bottom called Awtlekeltie, which Awtlekeltie devides the lande of Rose Trevor and Clonduff, which meere so trodden, bounded and sett forthe, we fynde to be the true right meere of the same landes, deviding them severally, and do order and determyne the same meere so to remayne and be.

We likewise, the same daye, tooke examinacon of a difference of meeres betwene the towne lande of the Beganew, belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, and Crosbare, belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and lyeng within the said territory, and do fynde by good prooffe and examinacon of wytnesses in presenee of both parties, that the meere ioynyng to Tawnagh yeavedye, leaving Tawnagh yeavedye to Crosbare, is the true meere betwene them, which we order and determyne to be the true and right meere betwene them and so to remayne.

We likewise then tooke examinacon of the difference betwene the towne-lande of Clon-lowghan, belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, and Clonknaverly, belonging to sir Edward Trevor, and lyeng within the said territory, concernyng the meeres thereof, and do fynde by good prooffe and examinacon of wytnesses in presence of both parties, that the meere trodden and sett forthe by Manus Hanlon, begynnynge at a little gutt neare Drummen Downe, and so through the wood to Knockneawle, and thence by the Skarvagh, and downe to the bogge and ryver of the glyn, is the true meere between the said two townes, which we do order and determyne so to be and remayne betwixt them.

We also tooke examinacon of a difference in controversie betwene sir Arthur Magneis for Edenderry, and sir Edward Trevor for Monylettagarvye, concernynge the meeres thereof, lyeng within the same territorye, and do fynde by good prooffe, that the meere trodden and sett forthe by Cormuck O'Sheale betwene the said townes, begynnynge at the foarde near the bogge, and so to Lisboyoge, and so leavyng the same lisse on the left hande, and so neare to Lysynurgher, leaving yt on the right hande, and so alonge to Lysnetretemeall, leavyng yt on the left hande, and so following the meere through a plashe to the meere on the other syde, and so trodde the meere by a meddow syde to Awltnekirke, and so downe towards the bottom, to the meere that went to Tollyne Cerlesyn, leavyng yt on the right hande, and so followed the meere to Aughe Coolefowle, and so forwarde without Lisnetressheragh, which meere so trodden, bounded and sett forthe we fynde to be the true, right and certen meere betwene the said townes, and do order and determyne the same so to be and remayne.

By vertue of a comission to us or any three or more of us in this behaulf directed, we have proceeded to the execucon thereof, so farr forthe as maye hereby appeare under our handes.—Gyven this 12th daie of june 1618.

NICHOLAS WARDE,

Deputy Surveieur.

RICHARD WEST.—RICHARD ATHERTON.—CHRISTOPHOR RUSSELL.

According to the said comission, and by vertue thereof, we the comissioners undernamed, upon request made unto us to take viewe of a difference in controversie about the meetes and boundes of the towne lande of Ballykeile, lyeing within the territorye of Eveagh aforesaide, and then belonging to Marmaduke Whitechurch, esq. and the other towne landes bordering thereunto, belonging to sir Arthur Magneis, knight, and others, came the seconde day of july 1618, to the said towne-lande of Ballykeile, and do fynde by good prooffe, that the meere trodden and sett forth by Cormuck oge O'Sheale, clarke, and Concher boy Mc. Conwah, betwixt the said towne lande and the towne lande of Lisnepheagh, videt from Lisnegeragh, downe alongest the middle of the escagh or bogge to the streame called Edenoconchy; and so alonge the said streame of Edenoconchy westwarde, through the middle of another bogge, and so straight alonge over that bogge to the firme grounde, as it is by them meered westward, untill yt come into the bogge betwene Carricullyn and Ballykeile, leading southwarde unto the moore of Derryinsillee, half of which moore belongeth to Ballykeile: which meere so bounden, trodden and sett forth we fynde to be the true, right and certen meere betwene the said townes, and do order and determyne the same so to be and remayne.

W. BROWNLOWE,

RICHARD ATHERTON.

8th of June, 1618.

According to the said comission also, and by vertue thereof, we the comissioners undernamed, upon request made unto us to take viewe of a difference in controversie about the meeres and boundes of the towne lande of Ballindowne, belonging to Marmaduke Whitechurch, esquire, and the towne lande of Ballylisnerigh, belonging to sir George Sexton, knight, both townes lyeing in the said territorye, came and tooke view thereof, and do fynde by goode prooffe that the meere trodden and sett forth by Tyrlogh Mc. Conwell and Ferdorogh Mc. Art oge Magenise, betwene the said townes, begynnynge at the east syde of the bogge called Fowleinany, lyeing betwene them, goying eastward over a little hill called Nyany, and from thence through another little bogge to a hill called Knockne-Cree, and so alongest to the south syde of Lianesillagh, and thence, through a little bushy wood to the bottome of the hill called Knockne Carr, and so alongest by the bottom of the said hill called Lisvane, and from thence, by the syde of a little hill called Dronaghy, to the lower syde of the foarde of Abyogg, goying over unto the other syde of the ryver of the Bonde, and so from thence through Tullynegarlisse to Munarley, which meere so trodden and sett forth, we fynde to be the true right meere and certen bounde betwene the said townes, and do order and determyne the same so to be and remayne.

By vertue of the said comission to us or any three or more of us in this behaulf directed, we have proceeded to the execucon thereof, so farr forth as may hereby with all the former appeare under our handes, gyven this 19th daie of august, 1623.

(2) Ballinlare 28 Oct' an' 10.

ARTHUR BAGNALL of the Newry in the co' of Downe esq. ys seised, in his demesne as of inheritance, by descent from his father sir Henry Bagnall knt. of the parcell of land called by the name of Moycarne, neer the river of Glanree, containing 3 towne lands, viz. Carnebane, Grange and Aghbeard, with the tithes thereof; and also a parcell of land called the Grange in [] in the said co', containing 7 half townes, viz. Balledingenan al' Ballydongna, Kyrolniaght al' Ballekeronehinaght, Ballyaghacorke al' Ballyacoraght, Ballydrombeny al' Dromenbibly, Lysgreenan al' Clonedrogebally, Tunnaghmore and Tunnaghbegg, all which lands were formerly parcell of the possessions of the dissolved religious house or college of the blessed Virgin Mary & St. Patrick of the Newry, holden of his Ma^{tie} by a fourth pte of a knight's fee, in capite, and were granted to sir Nicholas Bagnall, grandfather to the said Arthur, by tres patters from king Edward VI.—The said Arthur is, in like manner, seised of the townes and lands in Oriee, viz. Dirrymore, Dirrybegg, Ballylaer and Ballachan al' Altenfeagh, called the 4 townes of Coghall, all which descended according to the course of common law, ever since the said sir Nicholas Bagnall purchased them from the O'Hanlons; but the said 4 townes were incerted by pticular names in the late general survey, as escheated to his Ma^{tie} by the forfeiture of sir Ogby O'Hanlon knt. and soe past to severall servitors and natives, by patters in severall parcells, whoe nowe claim the same, although, in one of the severall offices of the escheated landes in Ulster, there was a generall saving of all Mr. Bagnall's lands.—The said lande is holden of his Ma^{tie} by knight's service, in capite.—The said Arthur is, by his own purchase, seised of the revercōn, expectant upon a lease for a tearme of years lately granted to sir Francis Stafford knt. from his Ma^{tie}, in the small castle and towne of Moygaffa al' Feddan, and of the townes and lands of Ballybrin, Dromlaghan and Dromleskin, together with the decayed fishing weares in the river of Glanrie, all which he holdeth of his Ma^{tie} in free and comōn soccage.—Every of the townes above mençoned, in this co', contains 100 acres.

HENRY SAVAGE of Ardkeene within the co' of Downe, and his assigns, was and is seised and possessed, in fee, of the castles, lands and tenements hereafter mentioned, that is to say, the castle, towne and lands of Ardkeene contayning 1 towneland, the towne and land of Ballilissbane 1 towneland, Cokestowne al' Ballicokerie 1 towneland, Irishtowne al' Balligelagh 1 towneland, Ballycrannymore 1 towneland, Ballycranybegg 1 towneland, Krewe ¼ a towneland, Retalla ¼ of a towneland, Downe ¼ of a towneland with a fresh water lough, all pcell of Kirchestowne, the castle, towne and lands of Ballygalgett with a fresh water lough, Ballycoller 1 towneland, Ballyvickenny 1 towneland, Tullymayley 1 towneland, Balliward, 1 towneland, the castle and land of Skaterick, the island of Ranish called the Calfe-island, the Trashnagh-island, the island called Iland-roee, the island called the Partan-island, the island called Iland-dromond, with two Mynisses, the island called the Grass-island, the island called Inishe-anroyme, and the island called Iland-conolly, all which are lying and being in the co' of Downe.—The same are holden of the King, that now is, in capite by knight's service.—ROWLAND SAVAGE of Portaferry esq. the sonne and heire of PATRICK called LORDE SAVAGE, maketh his claim unto all the said castles, lands, &c. as the inheritance of his ancestors, and desireth that his right therein may be saved unto him.—One HENRY OWEN SAVAGE doth likewise make his claime unto the same, as the right and inheritance of his ancestors, and desireth that his right therein may be likewise saved.—Sir JAMES HAMILTON, knt. claymeth pcell of the said lands, viz. Ballygabon al' Scatriek-island, Connell-island, Roe-island, Ranisse-island, Partan and Iland-skattrick, with their appurtenances, to be passed unto him, which appeared to be inserted in a fine thereof, amongst other lands, levied in the courte of common pleas in the terme of St. Michael, an' 35 & 36 Eliz', to the use of the said sir James Hamilton, and therefore desireth that his right therein may be saved unto him.—The lord BISHOPP of DOWNE desireth that the right of the said bishop, as in right of the church, and the right of the glebe lands of the pish church of Ardkeene, may be saved unto him.

(6) Tolonkill 15th Oct' 15th year.
The townland of Ballymartin al' Ballymartynagh is, and anciently hath been, pcell of the manor of Ballydreene al' Ilandmaghie, and the said manor is the ancient inheritance of the bishop of Downe.—[] MERRYMAN, late bishop of Downe, was seised of the said manor of Ballydreene, in right of his said bishoprick, and was also seised, as of fee, of the townland of Ballymartyn, as part of the said manor.—The sept or family called slutt Mc. HENRY keyes did lately expulse and disseise the said bishop out of the whole manor aforesaid, in tyme of warre and rebellion.—One ROWLAND SAVAGE of Ballygalgett, some tyme, entered upon and possessed the said manor of Ballynebreene al' Ilandmaghie, as tenant or farmer to the then bishop of Downe, and did also hold the townland of Ballymartin al' Ballymartynagh, and did pay for the said lands, yearly, the rent of 4l. for the space of 3 years together, to one ROB' HUMSTON late bishop of Downe, and did also give to the said bishop a horse valued at 20l. for and in the name of a fine or income for a lease of the said lands, for 3 years.—The tenants and farmers of the now or late bishop of Downe, were and did contynue in the quiet possession of the said townland of Ballymartyn al' Ballymartynagh, as pcell of the said manor, untill sir HUGH MONTGOMERY, knt. did about 9 yeares now past, disseise them from and oute of the same.—There are no rents, duties, customes or services due to the King out of the said manor of Ballindreene, or out of any land thereunto belonging. The river or brooke called the Mill-water, in the said co', is the knowne meare and bounds between the said townland of Ballymartyn and the towne or lands of Ballycargaherusk, pcell of the territorie of the Duffrens, and the said river extendeth to the townlands of Ballymonastragh, pcell of the land of said sir Hugh Montgomery. The meare and bounds aforesaid beginn at the said river, within the woods, by a knowne ould ditch which extendeth to a playne hill called Dromscagh, leaving most of the said hill within the townland of Ballymartyn, [] and extendeth through the said playne hill, by an ancient stone ditch, and thence goeth along the said ditch through the wood, westward, into a deep valley, leading the said meare or bounds to the south end of a lough called Lough-nacargabane, leaving the hill called Mollaghgibbagh, within the foresaid Ballymartyn; and so the said lough meareth between Ballymartyn and Ballymonastragh. The meares between the towne of Ballyglegory, pcell of the manor of Ballindreene, appertaining to the said bishop, and of Lisbarnan being the lands of said sir Hugh Montgomery, have bene troden, begining on the side of the lands of Lysnefynene, along a hedge to a little house wherein DONELL Mc. PHIDAN, a Scottishman, dwelleth, leaving the house of the said Donell in Ballyglegory, and the haggard of the said Donell in Lisbarnan, and so goeth to a gray high-stone, and from thence to an ould staked hedge, which meareth along to a little rock or hill called the hill of Controversy.

Commission.

JAMES, by the grace of God, kinge of Englande, Scotlande, Fraunce, and Ireland, defender of the faith, &c.—To our right trustie, and welbelovèd sir Artbure Chichester, knight, our deputie of our realme of Ieoland; Thomas, archbushopp of Dublin, our chancellor in our said realme; Henrie, archbushopp of Armagh, primate of all Ireland; George, bushopp of Derry, Clogher, and Rapoe; Robert, bushopp of Kilmore and Ardagh; sir Thomas Ridgeway, knight, our vicethrer and threr att warres, in our said realme; sir Richard Wingfield, knight, our marshall of our armie there; sir Humphrie Winche knight, chief justice of our chief place in our said realme; sir John Denham, knight, chief baxon of our exchequer in the said realme; the master of our rolles in our chancerie of the said realme for the time beinge; sir Oliver St John, knight, master of our ordinaunce in our said realme; sir Oliver Lambert, knight, one of our privie counsell in our said realme; sir Henry Power, knight, one other of our privie counsell in our said realme; sir Gerald Moore, knight, one other of our said privie counsell; sir Adam Loftus, knight, one other of our privie counsell in our said realme; sir Richard Cooke, knight, our principal secretarie in our said realme; sir John Davis, knight, our attorney general in our said realme; Willm Parsons, esquier, surveyor general of our possessions in our said realme; and George Sexton, esquier, our escheator within our province of Ulster greetinge—Whereas, great scopes and extent of land in the severall counties of Armagh, Tyrone, Colerane, Donegall, Farmanagh, and Cavan, within our province of Ulster, are escheated and come to our hands by the attainder of sondrie traitors and rebels, and by other just and lawful titles, whereof wee have caused, heretofore, severall inquisitions to be taken, and surveys to be made, which being transmitted and presented unto us, we considered with our privie counsell, attending our person, how much it would advance the wellfare of that kingdom if the said land were planted with colonies of civill men, and well affected in religion; whereupon there was a project conceived for the division of the said lande into proporçons, and for the distribuçon of the same unto undertakers, together with certaine articles of instruccõ for such as should be appointed commissioners for the said plantation; which project and articles, signed with our owne hand, wee have latelie transmitted unto you, our deputie: and whereas wee are informed, that in the inquisitions and surveys formerlie taken, there have been some omissions, as well of the ecclesiasticall land claymed by the severall bushoppes within whose diocesses the said escheated lands doe ly, as of the lands merely temporall, which might the more easilie happen, by reason that the quantitjes and measures of land in those countries, which were not in former tymes governed by the English lawes, were unknown to our officers and ministers there; as also, because the said service of enquiry and survey was mixt with other services, namelie, with gaole deliveries and other execution of the publique justice, and with the prosecuçon of such as were in open action of rebellion—Knowe yee that wee, reposinge spiall trust and confidence in your wisdomes, diligence, and sinceritie, have by the advise and consent of you, our right trustie and well beloved counsellor, sir Artbure Chichester, knight, our deputie generall of our said realme of Ireland, made, constituted, ordained, and appointed, and by these presents doe make, constitute, ordayne, and appointe you, or any five or more of you, whereof you, our said deputie, shall be alwaies one, to be our commissioners: and do hereby give unto you, or any five or more of you, as aforesaid, full power and authoritie to inquire, as well by the oathes of good and lawful men, as by all such other good waies and meanes as to you shall seeme fitt and convenient, what castles, mannors, lordshipps, lands, tenements, rents, services, customes, dueties, fishings, advowsons, or other hereditaments whatsoever, situate lying or beinge in the severall counties of Armagh, Colerane, Tyrone, Donegall, Farmanagh, or Cavan, or either of them, or in the confines of them or either of them, are escheated and come, or ought to escheat and come to our hands and possession, or to the hands and possession of any of our progenitors or predecessors, kinges or queenes of England, by virtue of any act or acts of parliament, by attainder of any person or persons, by breach of any condiçon or condiçons containyd in any lres patent, by escheat, forfeiture, or by any other waies and meanes whatsoever, and to make an exact survey of the said lands, teñts, and hereditam^{ts}, and of everie parte thereof, by the numbers of ballibetaghs, balliboes, polles, tathes, acres, or other measures and quantities of land used and known in the said severall counties; and after inquisiçon and survey thereof taken as aforesaid, to plott and divide the said lands into severall parishes, precincts, and proporçons, and to distinguish the same by particular names, meares, and bounds accordinge to the tenor and intent of the said project and articles of instruccõ hereunto annexed; and further, to performe and execute all and everie act and acts, thinge and thinges whatsoever, conteyned and prescribed in and by the said project and articles: and wee doe further by the advice and consent aforesaid, give unto you or any fyve, or more of you as aforesaid, full power and auctoritie, to here and determine all titles, controversies, and matters whatsoever which shall arise and be moved or pretended, as well betwene us and our subjects, as betwene partie and partie, concerninge the said lands, teñts, and hereditam^{ts}, or any parte thereof, the church lands onlie excepted, which nevertheles you shall alsoe have power to order and decree as aforesaid, soe as it be done with the consent of you, our deputie; and you, the archbushopp of Dublin, our chancellour; and of you, Henry, archbushopp of Armagh, primate of all Ireland; and of you, George, bushopp of Derry, Clogher, and Rapho: and lastlie, we doe hereby give you or any five or more of you as aforesaid, full power and auctoritie to doe and execute all and everie other act or acts, thinge or things whatsoever, which you or any five or more of you as aforesaid, shall in your discretion thinke pertinent and convenient, for and towards preparaçon, furthraunce, and finishinge of the said plantaçon, willinge, and commandinge you and every of you to give diligent attendaunce, and to use your best endeavour in the execuçon of the premisses as becometh; and what you, or any five or more of you as aforesaid shall doe herein, the same to certifie us in our high court of chancerie in our said realme of Ireland, before hallowmas next ensuing the date hereof. In witness whereof, wee have caused these our lres to be made patent; Witness our said deputie generall of our said realme of Ireland, at Dublin, the one and twentieth day of July, in the seaventh yeare of our reigne of England, France, and Ireland, and of Scotland the twoe and fortieth.

Articles for Instructions for the Plantation of Ulster.

JACOBUS REX,

FIRST.—That a generall care be taken that such orders, condiçions or articles, as have bene lately published in print, or are to be printed or transmitted touchinge the plantaçon, be observed and putt in execuçon, as well by the comiissioners as by the undertakers.

2.—That the said comiissioners be readie to begin their journey into our province of Ulster, for the execuçon of their comiission, before thend of July next, or sooner yf it may be.

3.—The omissions and defects in the former survey of the escheated landes in Ulster, either for us or the church, are to be supplied and amended by newe inquisiçions, and the ecclesiasticall lands to be distinguished from the lands belonginge to the crowne.

4.—The counties beinge divided into severall proporçions, everie proporçon is to be bounded out by the knowne metts and names, with the particular mençon both of the number and name of everie balhboe, tath, polle, quarter, or the like Irish precinct of land that is contained in everie porçon, and to give each porçon a proper name to be knowne by, and in the proporçions lyinge neere to the high waies, choyse is to be made of the most fitt seats for undertakers to build uppon, and such sorts as may best serve for the safetie and succour of the passengers; and also to allott and sett out by meares and boundes unto everie proporçon, soe much bogg and woodd over and above his number of acres, as the place where the proporçon shall ly, may convenientlie afford, having respect to the adjacent proporçon.

5.—Because the article of castinge lott discourageth many that are sufficient and would be glad to dwell together: that therefore every countie be divided into greater precincts; everie precinct containing eight, ten, or twelve thousand acres, accordinge to the greatnes of the countie; and those precincts to containe severall proporçions, lyinge together, to the end that soe manie consorts of undertakers may here be appointed, as there are severall precincts, which beinge done, then theis consorts may cast lotts for the precincts, and afterwards divide everie precinct amongst the particular undertakers of that consort, either by agreement or by lotts; and this forme not to be concluded, but upon consideraçon, taken thereof by the commissioners there, whoe havinge reported back their opinions, some such course may be resolved, as to us shall be thought most convenient.

6.—To cause plotts to be made of everie countie, and in the said plotts to pricke out the severall precincts, and in the precincts, the severall proporçions by their names.

7.—Such greate woodde as the commissioners shall make choise of, to be preserved for our use, are to be excepted out of the proporçions, and to be reserved for the undertaker's buildings, and for such other purposes as to us shall be thought fitt.

8.—That in the survayes observaçon be made what proporçions by name are fittest to be allotted to the Brittaines, what to the Servitors, and what to the Natives; wherein this respect is to be had, that the Brittaines be putt in places of best safety; the natives to be dispersed, and the servitors planted in those places which are of greatest importance to secure the rest.

9.—The commissioners are to limitt and bounde out the precincts of the severall parishes, according to their discretions, notwithstandinge the limitaçon of the project, wherein they may observe the auncient limits of the olde parishes, soe as the same breed not a greater inconvenience to the plantaçon, and to assigne to the incumbents of each parish a gleabe, after the rate of threescore acres for everie thousand acres within the parishes, in the most convenient places, or nearest to the churches. And for the more certentie to give to each gleabe a certaine name, whereby it may be knowne; and to take order, that there be a proviso in the lres pattents for passinge the gleabes, to restraine the alienaçions thereof, savinge duringe their incumbencie.

10.—It is fitt that certaine portions be allotted and laied out for townes in the places mençoned in the project, or in more convenient places, as shall seeme best to the commissioners, havinge regard that the lands be laied as neere to the towns as may be.

11.—The parcels of land which shall be allotted to the colledge in Dublin, and to the free schooles in the severall counties, are to be sett out and distinguished by names and boundes, to the end the same may be accordinglie passed by severall grants from us. The commissioners likewise are to sett out the quantitie of three great proporçions, lyinge together in the countie of Ardmagh, to be allotted to the said colledge of Dublin, and sixe thousand acres to be taken out of the lands omitted in the last survey, (if soe much shall be founde); theis to be onely of our lands and not of the church land.

12.—That there be sett out and reserved twelve thousand acres, either out of the proporçions or otherwise, out of the lands omitted in the survey, in such counties and places, as to our deputy and comiissioners shall be thought meete; the same to be disposed by us for the endowt of an hospital, to be erected for maymed and diseased souldiers, in such place and manner as we shall hereafter appoint.

13.—The comiissioners shall, by the auctoritie given them, heare and determine all titles and controversies, by finall order and decree, that shall be brought before them, concerninge any lands and possessions, the church lands only excepted; which, nevertheles they shall have alsoe power to order and decree (as aforesaid,) soe it be done with the consent of the lord deputie, the archbushopp of Dublin, and the nowe bushopp of Derry; they shall alsoe compounde for titles betweene us and our subjects, or between partie and partie.

14.—And whereas complainte is made, that the scite of some cathedrall churches, the places of the residence of the bushoppes, deanes, chapters, dignitaries, and prebends in Ulster, be passed away to divers, in fee farme, by lres pattents, under pretence of monasterie lands, to the great detriment of those churches, the comiissioners shall have auctoritie to examine the same; and findinge the informaçon true, to consider of some course to be taken, for restitution to be made to the churches from whence they were formerly taken; with such consideraçon to those that nowe hold them, as standeth with equitie, accordinge to the circumstances considerable; and further, wee are pleased that the escheated lands, out of which the bushoppes have had heretofore rent, certentie of refecçions or pençons, should be esteemed ecclesiasticall, and be annexed to the severall seas whereunto they did pay the same, whereof the commissioners are to take particular notice, and to see the same effected accordingly.

15.—You, our deputie, shall cause our judges and learned counsell to sett downe our titles to the severall lands lately escheated in Ulster, to see the records to be perfected, and to take care that they may safely be preserved and kept secret, and to transmit the cases hether, under the hands of our judges and learned counsell.

16.—All acts, orders, and decrees, resolved there to be recorded into two bookes, thone to remain there in some courte of record, and thother to be transmitted to our counsell here.

17.—It is alsoe to be considered what persons are fit to be allotted to the mother of the late erle of Tirconnell, the mother of master Gwire, Katherine Butler, the late widdowe of Mulmorie O'Rely, and such others as clayme jointures, and that the commissioners doe (if they have cause) allowe the same unto them duringe their lives, and the revercion to the natives, with condition that they observe the articles of plantacon as other undertakers doe, or otherwise to assigne them recompence in some other place.

18.—The river fishing in loughes and rivers are to be allotted unto the proporcons next adjoyninge to the loughes and rivers, wherein the said fishinges are, thone moytie to the proporcon lyinge on the one side of the river or lough, and thother moytie to the proporcon lyinge on thother side, unless by necessitie or inconveniencie it shall be found fittinge to be allotted to thone side, for which fishinge some increase of rent is to be reserved unto us as to the commissioners shall be thought fitt.

19.—That retorne be made of their proceedinges and doinges, by virtue of this commission and instruccions before hallowmas next, that wee may have convenient time to resolve thereupon this winter, and to signifie our pleasure against the next springe.

I. ARMAGH.

AN inquisition indented, taken at Armagh, in the countie of Armagh, the twelwe day of august anno dni one thousand six hundred and nyne, and the yeare of the raigne of our soveraigne lord, James, by the grace of God, kinge of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, defender, &c. viz. of England, Fraunce, and Ireland, the seaventh, and of Scotland the threæ and fortieth, before the right honorable sir Arthur Chichester, knight, lord deputie generall of the realme of Ireland; Thomas, lord archbushopp of Dublin, lord chancellor of the said realme of Ireland; Henrie, lord archbushopp of Ardmagh and primate of all Ireland; sir Thomas Ridgeway, knight, vicethrer and threr at warres in the said realme of Ireland; sir Humfrie Winche, knight, chief justice of his highnes chief place in the said realme of Ireland; sir Oliver St John, knight, master of his majestie's muniçon in the said realme of Ireland; sir Oliver Lambert, knight, one of his highnes privie counsell in the said realme of Ireland; sir Garrett Moore, knight, one other of his ma^{ties} privie counsell in the said realme of Ireland; and sir John Davies, knight, his ma^{ties} attorney generall in the said realme, and Willm. Derry for proxies, and that the charge of repairing and mainteyninge the parishe church was equallie to be borne by the said parson, viccar and herenagh of that place, and that in this parishe is one sessiagh of glebe, belonging to the said viccar thereof; and alsoe the parishe of Camos, contayninge one ballibetagh, wherein is only a parson presentative, to whome twoe third parts of the tiethes are paid, and thother third parte to the herenagh, out of which third parte he is to give an yerely rent unto the said lord bushopp of Derry, for the certentie of which rent the said jurors referr themselves to the said lord bushopp's register; and alsoe the parishe of the Urny, the quantitie whereof the jurors doe not finde for want of evidence, but leave it to a newe inquisition; and alsoe the parishe of Leacke, conteyninge thirtie balliboes, wherein is both a parson and a viccar presentative; and one-third parte of the tiethes is paid to the parson, an other to the viccar, and one other to the herenagh; out of which third parte he paid yerely to the said lord bushopp of Derry six shillings eight pence per ann. and that the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church is to be borne equallie by the said parson, viccar and herenagh, and that here is alsoe one acre of glebe belonginge to the said viccar; and alsoe the parishe of Donoghchuddie, contayninge three ballibetags and eight balliboes, wherein is both a parson and a viccar presentative, and that one-third parte of the tiethes (fishe only excepted) is paid to the parson, an other third parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, out of which third parte he paid yerely to the said lord bushopp of Derry fortie shillings per ann. and the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church, to be divided and borne equallye between the parson, viccar, and herenagh for the tyme being, and that there are fower acres of glebe land belonging to the viccar. And further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, find and present, that the abbott of the late dissolved abbay of Omagh, both before and at the makinge of the said statute of dissolution of monasteries, was seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of his house, of and in the two sessiaghs of land, called Shiregrome, lying in the parishe of Kappagh aforesaid, with twoe sessiaghs of land, came to his maties hands and possession by the said statute of dissolution of monasteries. And further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, find and present, that the late abbott of the late abbay, monasterie, or religious house of friers of the third order of St' Fraunces, called Choracke, both before and att the makinge of the said statute or act of dissolution of monasteries, was lawfully seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of his howse, of and in the said abbay or house of friers; and of and in three balliboes and a sessiagh of land, parcell of the possessions of the said late abbay or religious house, in the parishe of Boydonagh, which said abbay, monasterie, or house of friars, with the said lands and possessions thereof, lately came to his maties hands and possession by the said act of dissolution. And further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, say and present, that in the parish of Ardsragh is an abbay, monasterie, or religious house of friers of the third order of St' Fraunces, called the abbay of Garrockerne, with twoe balliboes of land thereunto belonginge in the said parishe of Ardsragh; and alsoe one other abbay or howse of friers of the third order of St' Fraunces, called the abbay of Poble, with twoe balliboes and a sessiagh of land thereunto belonginge in the said parishe of Ardsragh als Ardsragh; and that the said late abbott of the said late abbay or monasterie of St' Peter and Paule of Armagh, both before and att the makinge of the said statute of dissolution, was alsoe seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of the said abbay, of and in the graunge of Morne and fower sessiaghs of land thereunto belonginge; and that the said graunge and lands thereunto belonginge, together with the said severall abbayes of Garrockerne and Poble, with the lands above mentioned, belonging to them and either of them, lately came to his maties hands and possession by force of the said statute of dissolution of monasteries; but they finde, that the sessiagh of Shraghemere is not parcell of the said late abbay of Poble. And further, the said jurors upon their oathes, saye and present, that the late abbott of the late dissolved abbay of Collumkill of Derry, both before and att the makinge of the said statute of dissolution, was seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of his house of and in the graunge of Bundiened, with twoe balliboes of land thereunto belonginge, and of and in the twoe parts of the tiethes of fishing in twoe pooles in the river of Loughfoile, adjoininge or lyinge within the said countie of Tirone; and that the said graunge, lands, and tiethes of fishing, lately came to his maties hands by the said statute of dissolution of monasteries; and the tiethes of fishing in such other pooles within the said river of Loughfoile, as doe lye within the countie of Tirone, doe belong to the bushopricke of Derry:—and the said jurors alsoe say, that they have seen a grosse some of the lord primate's proxies, upon the parsons and viccars; but because they knowe not the certentie thereof, they referr themselves to his register. And further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present, that to their knowledge, neither the lord archbushopp of Armagh, in right of his archbushopricke, prebendes, or dignitarries in right of their offices or places, are or is seised of any lands, tenements, rents, dueties, or hereditaments within the said countie of Tyrone, other then such lands, tenements, and hereditaments, whereof they are by these presents founde to be seised as aforesaid; and alsoe to their knowledge, neither the said lord bushopp of Derry, in right of his bushopricke, nor any his prebends or dignitarries, in right of their offices or places, are or is seised of any lands, tenements, rents, duties, or hereditaments within the said countie of Tirone, other then of such lands, tenements, rents, or hereditaments, whereof they are hereby found seised as aforesaid; and that to their knowledge, neither the said lord bushopp of Clogher, in right of his bushopricke of Clogher, nor any of his prebends or dignitarries, in right of their offices or places, are or is seised of and in any lands, tenements, rents, dueties, or hereditaments within the said countie, other then of such lands, tenements, rents, and hereditaments, whereof they are hereby founde to be seised as above mentioned. Moreover, touchinge the advowson and right of patronage of the severall rectories, parsonages, and vicarages within the said countie of Tirone, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde and present, that the said lord archbushopp within his own dioces, and the lord bushopp of Clogher in his peculiar dioces of Clogher, and the lord bushopp of Derry within his peculiar dioces of Derry for the tyme beinge, have heretofore from tyme to tyme, untill the pope's bull should come and be brought severally, viz. everie bushopp in his own dioces collated to everie void parsonage and vicarage, and the partie soe inducted did remaine in the said benefice untill the bringinge of the said pope's bull; and that then everie such parson or viccar was either allowed and confirmed, or disallowed or removed accordinge to the tenor of the said bull, except only the presentations, advowsons, and right of patronage of such parsonages and vicarages within the said countie, as are hereby founde either to be impropriate, or otherwise to belong to any abbay, monasterie, or religious house, or to any person whatsoever. And further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, say and present, that the manner of payinge the tiethes within the said countie of Tyrone, was and is as followeth, viz. that in the dioces of Armagh the tiethes of corne, wooll, fishe, and flax were ever paid in kyne, and for every milche cowe fower pence, and out of every heard of swyne, one porke; and that noe other tiethes were ever paid in the dioces, either in kyne or otherwise; and that in the said dioces of Clogher the tiethes of corne, wooll, fishe, and flaxe were likewise paid in kyne; and eight pence for everie three milche cowes, and a porcke out of everie heard of swyne; and noe other tiethes either in kyne or otherwise; and that in the said dioces of Derry, the tiethes of fishe, corne, wooll, and flaxe were paid in kyne; and foure pence sterl. for everie milche cowe, and a porcke out of everie heard of swyne, as before; and that in all places within the said countie of Tirone the herenagh, to whome a third parte of the tiethes were paid, and out of which he paid a rent to the archbushopp or bushopp, had and have as good estate in the said tiethes as in his herenagh land, and could not be removed out of the same by the bushopp:—and further, they say upon their oathes, that in all places of the said countie of Tyrone, where the tiethes are divided betwixt the parson, viccar, and herenagh, they the said parson, viccar, and herenagh are to beare the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the proper parishe church equallie between themselves. And the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present, that the herenagh land was att first given by the temporall lords immediatlie to the first founders of the churches; and that those founders did give the same to severall septs, for payinge rents and other dueties to the bushopps and for repairinge and mainteyninge their parishe church, wherein they often tymes did beare a third parte, and some tymes twoe third parts of the chardge, and for keepinge of hospitalitie; and that these septs or herenaghs have, tyme out of mynde, inherited the said lands accordinge to the Irish custome of tanistrie, and that neither the said lord archbushopp nor any other bushopp, nor their predecessors, could att any tyme heretofore, or nowe can, remove the said herenaghs out of the said lands; and further, they say, that termonland had the same beginninge as herenagh land, onelye they differ in that the termonland had often tymes more privileges, as sanctuarie and the like, which was not allowed to many of the herenaghes; againe the chief tenant of the termon land was called a corbe, but in comon speeche he is called by his sirname, but the chief tennant of the herenagh land is alwaies knowne and called an herenagh, and that they the said parson, viccar, and herenagh are to beare the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church there as before; and that the parson and viccar paid twelve pence a peece proxies to the said lord bushopp of Derry; and there is likewise one garden of glebe belonginge to the said viccar—and alsoe the parishe of Allowa, wherein is both a parson and viccar, and that the tiethes of this parishe are paid in kynde, one-third parte whereof to the parson, an other third parte to the viccar, and thother third part to the herenagh; and that the said parson, viccar, and herenagh are to mainteyne and repaire the parishe church at their owne chardges equallie to be borne; and that in the said parishe are twoe gardens of glebe, belonging to the viccar there; and that the parson and viccar paid twelve pence a peece proxies to the bushopp of Derry—and alsoe the parishe of Dromchaos, wherof there is a parson and a viccar; and that the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde; one-third parte whereof is paid to the parson, an other third parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, who are to beare the chardge of repairinge and maynteyninge the parishe church equallie as before, and that the parson and viccar of this parishe paid unto the bushopp of Derry two shillings a peece proxies, and alsoe the parishe of Boydafeigh, in which parish is both a parson and a viccar, and that the tiethes of the said parishe are also paid in kynde to the parson, viccar, and herenagh as before, and that they, the said parson, viccar and herenagh are to beare the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parish church equally, and that the said parson and viccar paid twelve pence a peece proxies to the bushopp of Derry; which said three parishes last recited are called by the name of Termonconny—and alsoe the parishe of Tawlaghtfinleggan, wherof there is both a parson and viccar, and that the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde, one third part to the parson, an other third parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, whoe likewise are to beare the chardge in repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church there equallie, and that the parson and viccar paid twelve pence a piece proxies to the lord bushopp of Derry, and that in this parishe there is one garden of glebe belonginge to the vicarage there, and alsoe the parishe of Boymevoe, wherof there is both a parson and a viccar, and that all the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde, one third parte whereof to the parson, another third parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, who are likewise to beare the charge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church equallie, and that the parson and viccar paid twelve pence a peece, proxies to the bushopp of Derry, and that there belongeth to the vicarage of the said parishe, one garden of glebe land, and alsoe the parishe of Bonnachor, wherof there is both a parson and a viccar, and that the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde, one third parte to the parson, an other third parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, who are to beare the chardge of repairinge and maynteyninge the parishe church equallie as before; and that the parson and viccar paid twelve pence a peece proxies to the bushopp of Derry, in which parishe alsoe is one garden of glebe land belonginge to the viccar there: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present that the late abbott of the late abbay or priory of Dungevyne, was both before and at the makinge of the said acte of the dissolution of monasteries, seised in his demesne, as of fee in right of his house, of and in the said abbay or priorie of Dungevin, and eight balliboes of land, with the tiethes thereof, and of the whole parishe to the said abbay or priorie belonginge, which said abbay or priorie, together with the said lands and tiethes lately came to his ma^{tie}s hands and possession by force of the said statute or act of dissolution of monasteries: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present that the lord archbushopp of Armagh is seised in fee, in right of his archbushopprieke, of and in the yerely rent of twoe markes sterl. per ann. yssuinge out of the herenagh land of Clonie, conteyninge one quarter; and there is alsoe the fishinge of twoe small pooles to the said land belonginge, all lyinge in the baronie of Annagh: and further, they say that the said herenagh land and fishinge of Clonie nowe is and hath bene in the possession of the bushopp of Derry, ever since the warres of Shane O'Neale: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present that the deane of Derry, both before and at the makinge of the said statute of the attainder of Shane O'Neale, in the eleventh yere of the raigne of the said late queen Elizabeth, was seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of his deanrie, of and in twoe quarters of land, called Ballyowen, in the parishe of Armagh, within the baronie of Armagh: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present, that the lord bushopp of Derry, both before and untill the makinge of the said statute of undecimo Eliz. was seised in fee, in right of the said bushopprieke, of and in the severall rents, customes, and dueties, yssuinge out of certen lands and portions of tiethes within the said barony of Armagh, as followeth, viz. out of the herenagh land of Fuoghenvallye, conteyninge twoe quarters, knowne by these sower names followinge, viz. Killewilly, Tulle-derry, Gullowe, and Killeitra, the rent of ten shillings per ann. and alsoe thirteene shillings foure pence sterl. per ann. in his visitation and not else, in lieu of a refection, which refection or sum of money, in lieu thereof, was equallie borne by the parson, viccar, and herenagh of the parishe of Fuoghenvally; and alsoe out of the herenaghe's third parte of the tiethes of the said parishe, ten shillings sterl. per ann. and alsoe out of the herenagh land of Camer, conteyninge one quarter, the yerely rent of ten shillings sterl. per ann. and out of the herenaghe's third parte of the tiethes of the parishe of Camer, ten shillings sterl. per ann. and a refection in the said bushopp's visitation, and not else: and they alsoe say, that in the parish of Annagh there is a quarter of herenagh land, out of which the bushopp of Derry had noe rent or refection yssuinge: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, finde and present, that in the said baronie of Annagh are the severall parishes ensuinge, viz. the parishe of Fuoghenvally, whereof there is both a parson and viccar, whoe paid unto the bushopp of Derry twelve pence a peece proxies; and that the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde, one-third parte thereof to the parson, an other third parte thereof to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, whoe are to repaire and mainteyne the parishe church equallie at their own chardge; and that before and untill the said statute of undecimo Elizabeth, the deane of the cathedrall church of Derry, was parson here in right of his deanrie; and alsoe the parishe of Camer, whereof there is both a parson and viccar, and that the tiethes of the said parishe are paid in kynde, one-third parte thereof to the parson, an other parte to the viccar, and thother third parte to the herenagh, whoe are to beare the chardge of repairinge and mainteyninge the parishe church, and that in the said parishe is one acre of glebe, belonginge to the vicarage there; and alsoe the parishe of Annagh, whereof there is both a parson and viccar, and that the tiethes of this parishe are paid nowe to sir Thomas Phillipps, knight, but by what right the jurors knowe not; and alsoe the parishe of Clandermott, whereof the dean of Derrye was parson, and received the whole tiethes in kynde, in right of his said deanrie, and that there is not any vicarage: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, say and present, that the late abbott of the late dissolved abbay or monasterie of Columkill of Derry, both before and att the makinge of the said statute of dissolution of monasteries, was seised in his demesne, as of fee, in right of the said abbay, of and in the two balliboes of Graungeagh, in the barony of Annagh, with the appurtenances, and that the said lands came lately to his ma^{tie}s hands and possession by force of the said statute of dissolution of monasteries: and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde and say, that all presentations, rights of patronage, and advowsons of churches within the said countie of Colrane, doe of right belonge and appertayne to the kinge's ma^{tie}, in right of his imperial crowne, but they alsoe say, that the bushopp of Derry might and did untill the said statute of undecimo Elizabeth place a clerke in any parsonage or viccarage, beinge voide, untill the kinge either presented or bestowed the advowson upon the bushopp or some other person whatsoever: and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, present and say, that the temporall lords never received any rents or dueties out of the termon or herenagh lands of the said countie of Colrane, but that Shane O'Neale, in the beginninge of his rebellion, compelled the tenants of the said termon and herenagh lands to give him sundrie uncertaine rents and customs, which the said jurors finde to have bene extorted wrongfullie and de facto, as an unlawfull exaction, and not de jure or as a lawfull rent: and further, touchinge the originall and difference of corbes and herenaghes, and of the termon lands of the said countie of Colrane, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde and say, that Donell Mc. Hugh O'Neale, kinge of Ireland, did, longe before any bushoppes were made in the said kingdome of Ireland, give unto certaine holy men, whom they call sancti patres, severall portions of land and a third parte of all the tiethes, to thend they should say praiers and beare a third parte of the chardge of repairinge and mainteyning the parishe church, thother twoe third parts beinge borne by the parson and viccar to whom the rest of the tiethes is yerely paid, and alsoe for their owne honor and sustentation; and that afterwards the said holy men did give unto severall septs severall proportions of the said lands, and placed one or more of them in everie parishe, and withall gave unto him a third parte of the tiethes of that parishe, to hould both the said land and the third parte of the tiethes, for ever, accordinge to the course of tanistrie, free from all exactions, and that for that cause the land was called termon or free, and the tennant thereof some tymes called corbe and sometymes herenagh, and that the said corbe or herenagh was to beare a third parte of the chardge in repairinge and maynteyninge the parishe church, and that the said portion of land, and the third parte of the tiethes soe contynued free unto the corbe or herenagh, for many yeres, untill the church of Rome established bushoppes in this kingdome, and decreed that everie corbe or herenagh should give unto the bushopp (within whose dioces he lived) a yerely pension, more or less, accordinge to his proportion out of his entire erenachie, consistinge of the said land and the said third parte of the tiethes, and that thereunto the said corbes and herenaghes submitted themselves, but held their herenaghie free for ever, and could not be removed by any of the temporall or spirituall lords, oy other person whatsoever: and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde that the difference of termon, corbe, and herenagh, consisteth onlie in this, that the termon is the name of the land, and all termon land is herenagh land, and hath all the priviledges of herenagh land, but all herenagh land hath not alwaies as ample priviledges as the termon lands: and alsoe, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes finde and present that all castles, manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments whatsoever, (the rents and dueties belonginge to the said archbushopprieke of Armagh, and all and singular abbaies, monasteries, priories, and religious houses, and the lands above mentioned to belonge thereunto only excepted,) are nowe or lately came to the actual and reall possession of his ma^{tie} by the said act of attainder of Shane O'Neale and others, made in the eleventh yere of the late queene Elizabeth: lastlie, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde and present, that the said kinge's ma^{tie} that nowe is beinge seised in his demesne, as of fee, of and in the whole fishinge of the river of the Banne, above the salmon leape, and of and in the whole ground, earth, and soyle of the said river, did by his Ires patents under the greate seale of Ireland, bearing date [

] give and grant the said fishinge with the said ground, earth and soyle thereof unto James Hamilton, assignee of Thomas Ireland, and to his heires for ever, as by the said Ires patent appeareth, by force whereof the said James Hamilton was thereof seised in his demesne, as of fee, and beinge so seised, did by his deed, under his hand and seale, duly execute, assigne and convey all that, the said fishinge with the said ground, soyle and earth thereof, and all his the said James his estate and interest therein, unto the right honorable sir Arthure Chichester, knight, lord deputie generall of the realme of Ireland, and to his heires for ever, as by the said conveyance more at large appeareth, by force whereof the said sir Arthure Chichester, knight, is nowe thereof seised in his demesne as of fee; for further certentie of all which matter, the said jurors doe referr themselves to the Ires patents and conveyance above mentioned.—In witness whereof, as well the said comissioners, as alsoe the said jurors, have to this parte of this inquisition, remayninge with the comissioners, put their seales the day and yeare first above written—*Arthure Chichester—H. eight pence Irish pençon, with some refecçons at the tyme of the lord bishop's visitaçon, and other small duties as appeareth in the bishop's register; and further, the said jurors saie, upon their oathes, that there are in the said parish five quarters of land called Loughresse, which have auncientlie bine in controversie betwixt the church and the sept of O'Boyle's, and as by tradiçon it hath beine delivered, the land originally came to the O'Boyle's, in manner and forme followinge, viz. that the bishop of Raphoe gave it in mortgage to a daughter of one Shewgrie O'Boyle for twentie cowes or tenne markes in monie which hee promised her for the use of her bodie, and that she beinge thereof seised, and that ever since that time, which is beyond the memorie of man, the said land hath successivelie bine and yet is in the possession of the O'Boyle's, but that sithence the departure of the late earle of Tیرهonnell, the lord bishop of Raphoe hath received the rentes thereof; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, say and present, that there is alsoe in the said barony the parishe of Templecronan, containinge fower ballibetags, whereof there is halfe a quarter of herenagh land enjoyed by O'Doughie as herenagh there, who paies thereout yerelie to the bishop of Raphoe the rent of eight shillings Irish per annũ, and there is in the said parishe both a parson and a viccar, whoe paid to the bishop of Raphoe eight shillings Irish, proxies, and that the tiethes are paid in kinde, one third parte of all the tiethes are paid to the parson, an other to the viccar, and thother third parte of all tiethes (except of fishe) are paid to the herenagh, and that the said bishop of Raphoe himselfe receaveth the said third parte of the fishe, (except as aforesaid,) and that the parson, viccar and herenagh are to repaire and mantaine the parishe church as before, and that there are alsoe twoe gortes of gleabe, thone belonginge to the parsonage, thother to the viccarage; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, finde that the lord archbishop of Armagh, for the time beinge, hath time out of minde, in cur̄s visitaçonis metropolitice from time to time, received out of every chapple or union tenn pence, and out of every greate parishe twentie pence; and the said jurors doe alsoe finde upon their oathes, that the bushopp, for the tyme beinge, could not raise or increase the rentes or duties upon the termon or herenagh land, either upon the alteraçon of the herenagh or otherwise, and that what rent or duties the said bishopps have raised or received, over and above thauncient rentes and duties above particularie set downe in every parishe, did first begine and were exacted by Rees Coytemore, in the time of his custodie and not before, and that the herenaghs did yealde unto the said Coytemore's exacçon and increase of rent, fearinge that otherwise they should have bine displaced; and the said jurors further saie upon their oathes, that Caffer oge Mc. Caffer O'Donell was about twoe yeres sithence seised of and in the castle of Scarnofallowe, and three quarters of land thereunto belonginge, and that the said Caffer beinge soe seised, was atteinted of high treason, by reason of which attainder the said castle and landes are nowe in the reall and actual possession of the crowne; and the said jurors further saie, that the said castle was formerlie built upon an acre of herenagh church land, for which they have herd that the said Caffer gave an other quantety of land to the church; and likewise the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, say and present, that Mc. Swine bannagh did, about three yeres before the said late earle of Tیرهonnelle's departure, graunt and convey unto the said late earle his whole title, estate, right and interest of and in the countrie of Bannagh, and that at the same time O'Boyle made the like graunt and conveyance of his countrie called the Boylagh unto the said late earle of Tیرهonnell, and that alsoe at the same time Mc. Swiny Ffannaght made the like graunt and conveyance of his countrie called Ffannaght unto the said late earle of Tیرهonnell, but that Walter Mc. Laughlin, and others of the sept of Ffannaght, opposed themselves against that graunt; and the said jurors doe likewise, upon their oathes, saie and present, that no temporall lord had the advowision or right of patronage of anie the prenõiated parsonages or viccarages with the said coñ of Donnagall, but they weare all and alwaies collative by the bushopp of the dioces, except that any man went speciallie to Roome and procured the pope's bull, and that thereupon the bishop did institute and induct him; moreover, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, present and saie, that the bushopp had, in and upon the church land within the dioces, severall refecçons in his visitaçon for the busines of the church, and not otherwise, and that accordinge to the proporçon of the land and abilitie of the clergie, and that if the said bishop staid three nightes in one parishe, he laie first upon the herenagh, the second night upon the viccar, and the third night upon the parson, and that if he staid but one night in the parishe, the parson, viccar, and herenagh did contribute equallie towards that charge; and the said jurors doe alsoe finde upon their oathes, that all the church landes within the dioces of Raphoe were auncientlie free from cuttings, exacçons and imposiçons whatsoever, (the rentes and duties above mençoned to be due and answerable out of the same excepted.) untill Manus O'Donell's time, whoe first began to impose bonnaghte's and the like upon them against the church men's willes; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, saie, that sir Cahir O'Doghertie, knight, late slain in actual rebellion against the kinge's ma^{tie}, was, upon the nineteenth daie of aprill in the yeare of our lord God 1603, seised in his demesne as of fee of and in the said barony or countrie of Inishowen, called O'Doghertie's countrie, in the countie of Donegall aforesaid, and of and in all castles, landes, tenementes, fishinges and hereditamentes within the said barony or countrie of Inishowen als O'Doghertie's countrie, by virtue of Ires patentes thereof, made unto him the said sir Cahir O'Doghertie, under the greate seale of Ireland, (except the island of Inch and the towne of Drohiertie, in the possession of sir Raphe Bingly, knight, and except the landes, tenementes and hereditamentes above mençoned to belonge to any monasteries, abbies, priories, or religious houses, and except the castle and fort of Culmore, and the three hundred acres of land lately allotted thereunto, and except the landes, tenementes and hereditamentes above mençoned to belonge to the bushopp or denarie of Derrie, or to the herenaghes above mençoned), and that the said sir Cahire O'Doghertie, beinge so seised, did in and upon the said nineteenth daie of aprill in the yeare of our lord God 1603, at Boncranagh, in the said countie of Donegall, enter into open and actual rebellion against the kinge's ma^{tie} contrarie to the provisoes and condiçons contained in the said Ires patentes, whereby the said sir Cahire did then and there breake the said provisoes and condiçons contained in the said Ires patentes, and that by the said breach of the said condiçons and provisoes, the said Ires patentes became voide, and the said countrie of Inishowen als O'Doghertie's countrie, and all castles, landes, tenementes and hereditamentes whatsoever, lyinge or beinge within the same, (except before excepted,) are now invested in the reall and actual possession of the crowne; for the further certentie of all which matters, the said jurors referr themselves to the said Ires patentes; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, saie and present, that in auncient time there weare divers landes given by temporall lords to saintes or holie men in the said coñ, for celebratinge divine service and prayinge for their soules healthes, and that the said saintes or holie men, dedicatinge themselves onely to praier and the service of God, did, for their better ease, ordaine and constitute severall herenaghes to manure and occupie those landes, which were usually a whole sept, and the principall of the sept was named the herenagh, whoe successivelie did enjoy those landes yealdinge and payinge certaine rentes unto the saintes, and that afterwarde bishopps beinge, created by the pope, did succede the saintes in those landes, of whom the said herenaghes held their said severall landes as from the saintes, payinge such rentes and duties to the bishopps as they or their sept did formerlie pay to the saintes, and were not to be displaced by the bushopp satisfyinge the auncient and accustomed rentes and duties unto them, as they doe nowe in those latter daies, and that the said herenaghes are to be named by the said bushopp, ever sithence, who take an income and an oathe of fidelitie to themselves of the herenaghes, and that one sept beinge deade, the bushopp is to ordaine an other sept herenagh in that place, with thadvise of the gravest men of the churche, which herenagh is alwaies to be the most auncient of the sept, and not to be chosen hereditarie, neither are the said landes inheritable to the chiefe herenagh alone, but that the whole sept of the said herenagh are equallie to inhabe with him, and have their share of the land accordinge to their severall abilities to paie the bushopp his rent, and that amonge them the herenagh hath a freedom above the rest, which in particular the said jurors cannot preciselie present; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes, present and saie, that the whole contrie of Tیرهonnell, otherwise called O'Donell's countrie, and all landes, tenementes, fishinges, royalties and hereditamentes within the said coñ of Donegall, (except the said countrie and landes of Inishowen, and excepte all castles, landes, tenementes and hereditamentes above mençoned to belonge to any bushopp, deanerie, abbie, monasterie, or religious house,) are now in the reall and actual possession of the crowne, by reason of the attainder of treason of Rorie late earle of Tیرهonnell; nevertheles, the said jurors doe further say, that sir Mulmorie Mc. Swine claimeth the whole countrie of Mc. Swine O'Doe, by vertue of Ires patentes, unto which Ires patentes the said jurors doe herein referre themselves, whether the said Ires patentes be good in lawe or not; and further, the said jurors doe, upon their oathes saie, that Walter Mc. Laughlin and his ulchy is a chapple of ease called Donoghmoyle, with halfe a tate of land belonging to the same, whereof O'Downan is the duoghassa, and paieth therout yerelie to the said bushopp of Clogher tenn white groats per ann. and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes saie and present, that the said bushopp of Clogher is seised in fee, in right of his bushoppricke, of and in the yerelie rent of two markes; and other the like dusties as in Maghercoolemanny aforesaid, issuinge out of the herenagh land of Clenys, conteynge two quarters and a halfe of the newe measure, in the baronie of Clanarlie, whereof there were three severall herenaghes, viz. Slurloughlin, Muntercorkeran, and Munterkeran, whoe hath one tath of the said herenagh lande free, equalle divided amongst them and their sept; and alsoe of and in the rent of two shillings per ann. issuinge out of the chapple, and two smale tates of herenagh land of Templemoillip, (whereof O'Corkeran is the herenagh) lyinge in that part of the said parishe of Clonys which extendeth into Tirecapada aforesaid: and the said jurors further say upon their oathes, that in the said baronie of Clanawlie is the parishe of Clenys, the parish church whereof standeth in the island of Clenys, in which parishe is both a parson and viccar collative; and that the tithes are paid in kinde, one fourth parte to the bushopp of Clogher, an other fourth parte to the said viccar, and thother two fourth partes to the said parson of Clenys, and the parishe church there to be repaired and maintained in sort as before: and they alsoe saie that in the said parishe are three acres of gleabe or thereabouts, belonginge to the viccarage of Clenys, and that the said parson paieth unto the bushopp of Clogher, yerelie proxies, eight shillings, and the viccar fower shillings, and that the boundes of the said parishe are as followeth, viz. it extenth into the halfe baronie of Tircanada, and boundeth uppon loughm^c Kealie; on the north and north-east uppon the bogge of Eskenanawde in the baronie of Magheristefanagh, and on the south uppon the river of Bealagh-jinnlagh within the said barony of Clonawlie, and on the west to the hill of Dromboy in the same barony: and the said jurors further saie upon their oathes, that in the said parish alsoe, is the chapple of ease called Templeferin, and on tate of herenagh land therunto belonginge, whereof Claumacglasset is the herenagh, and hath the tithes of the same with which and with the land he is onlie to keep up the said chapple: and they alsoe saie that there is the chapple of Templemoyle, with halfe a tate of herenagh land therunto belonginge, whereof Clan Mc. Glassett is the herenagh, but paieth nothinge out of either of the said chapples or landes, as the said jurors thinke: and further the said jurors doe upon their oathes say and present, that the bushopp of Killmore is seised in fee of and in the rent of fower shillings per annum, and a yearelie cosherie of fower quarters of beofe in his visitacon, or in lieu of the said cosherie fortie groates, sent him home if he came not in person, all issuinge and cominge out of the herenagh land of Kilnallie, containing three tates newe measure, whereof Muntergromagh is the herenagh in the said barony of Clonawlie, and of and in some other rent and duties issuinge out of the herenagh land of Killesser, in the said baronie, containinge halfe a tate of the newe measure, whereof Munterbleake is the herenagh, for the certentie of which rent and duties the said jurors referr themselves to the said bushopp's register: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, say and present, that in the said baronie of Clonawley are the twoe severall parishes, ensuinge, viz. the parishe of Kilnallie, whereof there is both a parsonage and a viccarage, and that the said parsonage belongeth to the bushoppricke of Killmore, as the said bushopp's mensall, and is contained and confined within the halfe baronie of Knocknynny, but extendeth not into soe much of the said parish as lieth within the said baronie of Clanawlie, which is parcell of the parsonage of Killesser, and that the viccarage of Kilnallie extendeth as well into the baronie of Clanawly, as alsoe into the halfe baronie of Knocknynny, as far as the river of Drumunchie, on thother side of which river are the tenne tates of Calbagh, in the said halfe barony of Knocknynny, and that the said tenne tates are within the viccarage of Tomregan, in the countie of Cavan; and the tithes of the said parishe of Kilnallie are paid in kinde, and that thone third parte thereof to the viccar, and thother twoe third partes to the parson, respectively, accordinge to the severall scopes and boundes; and the said jurors doe upon their oathes saie, that the parishe church there is repaired as before, and that the viccar of the said parish, paieth unto the said bushopp of Killmore, three shillings, proxies, per annum: and that in the said baronie is alsoe the parish of Killesser, and that the parsonage of the said parishe extendeth onlie into soe much of the parish of Killmally as lieth in the said baronie of Clanawlie, and is impropriate to the late dissolved abbey of Kelles; and that the vicarage is collative, the tithes paid in kinde, twoe third partes thereof to the parson, and the third parte thereof to the viccar there, respectively, and the parish church to be repaired as before, and that the viccar of the said parish, payeth unto the said bushopp of Killmore three shillings, proxies, per annum: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes, say and present, that the late dissolved abbey of canons of Lisgoole, is situate within the said baronie of Clanawlie, and that to the said abbey, doe belonge the tates or parcells of land, followinge, and the tithes thereof, viz. the twoe tates of Dromoon, the tate of Gartret, the three tates of Colkie, the three tates of Grangeth, and the twoe tates of Lisroddy, one tate of Kappoge, the twoe tates of Lanchall, the twoe tates of Drumkine, and the fower tates of Moylett, all which are of the oulde measure; and that out of the said abbey of Lisgoole is issuinge unto the bushopp of Clogher, in right of the said bushoppricke, one meale, per ann, if he come, and sixe shillings eight pence, proxies, for the impropriation of Rosserririe aforesaid; and they alsoe finde that the ballibetagh of Balliloughmaguffe, is lyinge within the said countie of Fermannagh; moreover, the said jurors, doe upon their oathes, say and present, that in every of the parsonages and viccarages within the said countie of Fermannagh (exceptinge such as are impropriated) the bushopp in whose diocess the said benefice shall be found void, did and might within the sixe monethes after the vacancie, collate to the benefice, beinge void, and that if the bushopp collated not within sixe monethes, that then the said collation, came to the archbushopp of that province, and that if the said archbushopp collated not within other sixe monethes, that then the said collation came to the pope; but the said jurors say, that they have heard that great Coconnagh Mc. Guire, grandfather to Brian oge, now lyinge, had all advousons, presentacions and rightes of patronage of all parsonages and viccarages within the said countie, untill the pope, by the generall councill of Trent, tooke them from him; but the said jurors have not seen it in their time: and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes say, that the said herenagh landes were first given by the tempall lordes to certaine saintes free from anie dutie or exaccion whatsoever, to tend the said saintes should mantaine the church, celebrate divine service, and keepe hospitalitie; and that of the said saintes some were confessors, some deacons, and some virgins; and that the said saintes (before they ceased) chose out some septes whom they most respected, and gave unto every sept a proporcion of land, to be equally by them and their posteritie inherited for ever, to the same uses and intentes, and to mantaine the same rites for which the said landes were formerlie given to the said saintes, and that therupon one or more of the said septes was placed in every parishe for the better maintenance of the church, and keepinge of hospitalitie accordinge to the maininge of the said saintes; and that the said septes or the saintes before them, desirous to mantaine the church and the liberties thereof which they enjoyed, did voluntarilie give unto the bushopp within whose diocess they lived, certaine pencons and other duties as they are above sett downe, to tend the said bushopp should protect them and their liberties; and that until the said pencons and duties were soe voluntarilie given, the bushopp never had or claimed to have to do, either with the said land or the tenentes thereof, and that from thencefourth the bushopp tooke uppon him the protection of the said septes and of their landes, and give to every chiefe of a sept the name of herenagh, whereof the land was first called herenagh land; and the said jurors alsoe say uppon their oathes, that the said herenaghe himselfe was to be first elected by the sept amongst themselves, and to be confirmed by the bushopp, and that if the said sept could not agree, then the ellection belonged to the bushopp, dean and chapter, but that the bushopp alwaies confirmed the said herenagh soe elected, and for that confirmation received such fees and duties proportionable as for the institutinge of anie clerke into a benefice; and the said jurors say, that this inheritance and sole possession of the land remained in the sept, and that if any time the sept were quite extinct, yet the bushopp had noe power either to detain the landes in his owne possession, or to dispose of it to any other person, but to such a sept whereof he would choose another herenagh to performe those duties and rites in the churche that the former herenaghes had done; and that then alsoe, the said bushopp could not alter or increase his former rent, pencon or duties; and the said jurors alsoe saie uppon their oathes, that it was in the ellection of the sept to make any parte of their land free, payinge the bushopp dutie out of the rest, and that if the herenagh or any other of his sept had made a forfeiture of his portcon, it came not to the bushopp but was partible betwixt the whole sept; and further, the said jurors doe upon their oathes saie and present that old Coconnagh seised in fee, in right of the said bushopprieke of Killmore, of and in the severall rentes and duties under written, yssuinge out of certain landes lyinge in the barony of Tullaghgarvy, as followeth, viz. out of the termon land of the Kill containing two polles, two markes, eight reape hookcs, and one day worke per annum, and out of the poll of termon land of Drumchile, one shillinge eight pence, per annum, and out of the poll of termon land of Aghowrahan twelve pence per annum, and out of the two polles of termonland of Rachane one shilling eight pence per annum, and out of the poll of Dromgresse twelve pence per annum, which seaven polles, last recited, are lyinge in the parish of Killysarduny, and alsoe, out of the poll of termon land of Dronge two shillinges per annum, and out of the three polles of termon land more in the parish of Dronge nine pence per annum, and out of the termon land of Maghereholche containing one polle, and halfe a potle of land, parcell of the parish of Dronge sixe shillinges per annum; and further, the said jurors doe uppon their oathes say and present that in the said barony of Tullaghgarvy are the severall parishes ensuinge, viz. the parish of Killysardunny containing in all fower ballibetaghcs, whereof the parsonage is impropriate to the late priorie of Fflower, and that the viccarage of the parish is collative, and the tithes paid in kinde, one third parte to the viccar, thother twoe third parts (except of the twoe polles of termon land of Kill) are paid to the said late priorie of Fflower, in right of the said impropriacion, and the twoe thirde soe excepted, are paid to the said lord bushopp of Killmore; and alsoe the parishe of Dronge, containing six ballibetaghcs, the parsonage whereof is impropriate to the said late priorie of Fflower, and the viccarage thereof is collative, and that the tithes are paid in kinde, one third parte to the viccar, and thother twoe third partes (excepte of the termon lande of Maghereholch, and of twelve polles and a gallon of Ballim'enchocell are paid to the said late priorie of Fflower, in right of the said impropriacion, and the twoe thirde soe excepted are paid to the said bushopp of Killmor, and that in the said parish of Dronge is a chappell of ease called Mughereholche; and further, the said jurors doe, uppon their oathes, say and present that it appeareth by the bushopp of Killmor's register, that there weare eightene markes due to the said bushopp of Killmore, out of such of the possessions of the late priorie of Fflower as lye in the coñ of Cavan, which eightene markes the said jurors leave to be paid in such manner as heartofore hath bine usuall and accustomed: and further, the said jurors doe, uppon their oathes say and presente that the bushopp of Killmore hath ever heretofore collated to every void parsonage and viccarage within his dioces, in the said countie of Cavan, except such benefices as are above mençoned to belonge to any temporall man's plantation, or which are found to bee impropriate to any abbey, priorie, or religious house, or belonginge to the bushopprieke of Meath; and they alsoe say, that if the bushopp of Killmore neglected to collate within sixe moneths after the first vacancy, that then the right of collaçon did devolve by lapse to the primate of Armagh; and further, the said jurors doe uppon their oathes, say and present, that the parson, viccar, and herenagh, are to repaire and mainteine their proper parish church at their owne charge, out of their benefices, and the termon landes, unto which worke the parishioners did oftentimes, voluntarily give their benevolence: and the said jurors further, saie, that for any other duties or rentes omitted and not hereby founde to belonge to the bushopp of Killmore, they the said jurors referr themselves to a rental of the said bushopprieke, dated in the yere of our lord 1502, which rental the said jurors finde to be true, and the rentes and duties therein contained to have bine from time to time paid unto the said bushopp of Killmore. And touchinge the original of the termon land, the said jurors doe uppon their oathes finde that before the distinguishinge of parishes in these partes, there were certain religious men, in nature of hermittes, whoe, sequestringe themselves from all worldly busines, did severallie retire themselves into several private places, where they severally betooke themselves to praier, and to other godlie actes for their soules health; and in testimony of their zeale and devoçon, every of them for the most parte erected a church, and that to every of the said religious persons the temporall lordes gave a severall porçon of land, free for ever, to thintent that the said religious persons should maintaine hospitallitie, pray for the soule's health of the said lordes, and repaire and keepe the said churches, and otherwise to advaunce the service of God in that place whereon hee lived; and that the said religious persons ceasinge, every one of them made choice of the most sufficient person about, and to that person and his sept he gave his porçon of land, to be inherited by him and his sept for ever, to the same uses and intentes for which the said temporall lordes first gave them to the said religious persons, and that to the said landes weare annexed certain liberties and freedomes, as sanctuarie and the like, for which cause the said land was called termon, or free and protected land, and the cheife tennant thereof in some places called corbe, and in some places herenagh; and that afterwarde, when the temporall lordes in their severall warres, and uppon other occasions, began to charge and tax the said termon landes with divers exacçons and imposiçons, the said corbes and herenaghcs fledd unto the bushopp of the dioces wherin they lived, and besought his protection against the wronges and injuries of the temporall lordes, and therefore gave voluntarily unto the bushopp a rent or pençon out of their landes, and sometimes they besought the protection of such of the temporall lordes as they thought would defend them against the rest, and unto such temporall lordes some of the corbes and herenaghcs gave certain rentes or pençons out of their landes, untill which time the bushopp had never any thinge to doe either with the landes or with the tennantes there, but from thencefourth the bushopp undertooke the protecçon of the said herenaghcs and of their landes, and in proces of time tooke on him a power to confirme every corbe and herenagh in their land, and uppon the alteraçon of every corbe or herenagh tooke of them certain duties, whereunto the said corbes and herenaghcs voluntarilie yielded, the rather to continue themselves in the said bushopp's protection, and that the corbe and herenagh was ever to be elected by the sept amongst themselves, and was comonlie thauncientest of the sept, but if the sept could not agree in the elecçon, then the bushopp and whole clergie assembled and did elect one of the same sept, but still the bushopp confirmed and allowed him, and that if the whole sept weare at anye time extinct, the bushopp could not either detaine the said land in his owne handes, or dispose them to any particular person, unlesse it weare to another sept, out of which the newe herenagh or corbe should be created to inherit the said land, to the same uses for which it was formerlie given, which the said bushopp himselfe could not doe without thassent of the whole clergie, and that then hee could neither alter nor increase his rent or pençon, and that if the corbe or herenagh, or any of the sept under him, had made a forfeiture of any parcell of the said land, that came not to the bushopp, but was partable amongst the rest of the sept, and that the difference betwixt a corbe and an herenagh is this, that the corbe, called in latin pleibanus, is head of a greater familie or sept, and sometimes of severall septes, and hath sometime under him several herenaghcs, but the herenaghe was heade or cheife of a smaler number of people, and seldom had under him more then his owne sept.—In witnes whereof, as well the said commissioners, as alsoe the said jurors, have to this parte of the said inquisiçon remaininge with the said commissioners, sett their seales the daie and yeare first above written.—*Arthur Chichester—Tho'.
